PUNEETH, RULER OF HEARTS, NO MORE

Popular actor passes away after heart attack; Mortal remains kept at Kanteerava Stadium; Funeral on Sunday with full state honours

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

POPULAR actor, singer and producer Puneeth Rajkumar died after a massive heart attack at an early age on Friday, leaving millions of his admirers heartbroken. The last rites will be held at Kanteerava Studios on Sunday with full state honours.

Fondly called 'Appu' and titled 'Power Star' by his fans, the 46-year-old actor was the son of Kannada thespian, late Rajkumar and Parvathamamma.

Puneeth's friends and relatives said that he was at the birthday party of music director Gurukiran till about 11.30 pm on Thursday night, after which he retired to bed with a sense of uneasiness throughout the night. He reportedly woke up on Friday morning around 9.30 am and was exercising at the gym in his Sadashivanagar residence, which was his routine. Around 10.15 am, he collapsed during the workout and was rushed to a nearby hospital.

The actor was conscious then, but an electrocardiogram (ECG) conducted revealed severe variations and the doctors referred him to Vikram Hospital on Millers Road, where his condition was reported to be 'unresponsive'.

As news of his health condition spread like wildfire, thousands of fans converged on the hospital.

Within minutes, the actor's family members, including his actor-brother Shivraj Kumar, who was visiting cinemas as his new movie 'Bhajarangi-2' hit the screens just a few hours ago, rushed to the hospital. Senior Sandalwood personalities, including actors V Ravi-chandran, Shruthi, producer Rockline Venkatesh and others, visited the hospital and emerged with worried faces. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai too reached the hospital around 1 pm.

The doctor's spent at least two hours trying to revive Puneeth, but the efforts proved futile and he was officially declared dead at 2.30 pm. An official announcement was made by minister R Ashoka at 3.15 pm.

Doctors explained the death to have been caused by myocardial infarction (MI) — death of tissues in the heart muscle due to lack of oxygen delivery to parts of the heart.

Dr Ranganath Nayak, Cardiologist, Vikram Hospitals (a unit of Manipal Hospital), said Puneeth was brought to the hospital with no cardiac activity. P4

Sudden end to Appu's scintillating journey

A SHARADHAA @Bengaluru

A film icon's son, but a star in his own right. A star, but a humble soul. Wealthy, but an open-hearted giver. That was Kannada film star Puneeth Rajkumar, who passed away after a heart attack in Bengaluru on Friday at the young age of 46.

'Power Star' to crores of his fans, Puneeth was a child artiste, making his screen debut when he was just six months old in the super-hit movie Premada Kanike. The lead role was essayed by his father — the matinee idol Dr Rajkumar.

Born on March 17, 1975, the third and last son of Dr Rajkumar and Parvathamamma, Puneeth was known as Lohith in his initial days of acting.

He won the national award when he was just 10 years old for his memorable performance as Ramu in the movie Bettada Hoovu. As a much-loved child artiste, he worked in 14 films, including Vasantha Geetha (1980), Bhagyavantha (1981) and Chalisuva Modagalu (1982).

He made his full-fledged debut as a lead actor with Appu (2002), which was a runaway hit. The streak continued with his second film Abhi and he went to act in 29 more movies, many of them super hits. But it was Jackie and Anna Bond that took him to the stratosphere of superstardom. The biggest box-office collection, however, came from Rajakumara, which earned a little less than Rs 100 crore, while the spend was just one-tenth of that. His intense roles in Prithvi and Mythri made a mark with the critics too. Apart from his national award, he won six state film awards, including two for best actor in Milana and Jackie. One of the highest-paid stars of the industry, he had, at the time of passing on, almost completed shooting for James. The production of 90-minute Gandhara Gudi is over and its release dates were to be announced on November 1. P4

UP win must for 2024 encore: Shah

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Lucknow

UNION home minister Amit Shah on Friday blew the Assembly poll bugle in Uttar Pradesh, saying a thumping victory for the Yogi Adityanath government in early 2022 will pave the way for an equally emphatic win for the Modi government in the 2024 general elections.

Launching the party's mega membership campaign, the former national BJP president complimented the state government for good governance.

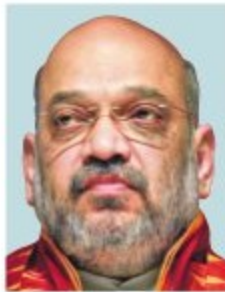

"I'm confident that the good governance ushered by the Yogi government will go a long way in achieving the goal of 300-plus seats in next year's Assembly polls. Let me put it simply. It's UP that enabled Narendra Modi to form a majority government at the Centre in 2014 and 2019." It's time to render the same majority to the BJP in the 2022 polls, Shah said.

Claiming that the BJP government in UP had fulfilled 90% of the promises it made in its 2017 manifesto, Shah said efforts are on to deliver on the rest of the wish-list within the next two months.

He reiterated that the BJP has already fulfilled two of its key pledges — building a grand Ram Temple at Ayodhya and hollowing Article 370 in J&K.

"UP is the land of Lord Vishwanath, Lord Ram, Gautam Buddha, Jain saints and BHU founder Madan Mohan Malviya. The Yogi government restored the pristine glory of the state, getting rid of the Mughal culture that prevailed during his predecessors' regimes," he claimed.

Marathon meetings

Later in the day, Amit Shah held marathon meetings with top organisational leaders to assess the party's poll preparedness that prevailed during his predecessors' regimes," he claimed.

3rd sero survey next week, to include children

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA will conduct its third Covid sero survey in another week following advice from the Covid Technical Advisory Committee (TAC), confirmed state Health Commissioner Randeep D. Though the protocol will be the same as the last two sero surveys, children will be included this time, said Dr Pradeep Banandur, head of the epidemiology department at the National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (NIMHANS) and member of TAC.

A sero survey is used to estimate the prevalence of antibodies against a specific infectious pathogen as an indicator of immunity.

"The protocol has been laid out and a go-ahead has been given to the procurement committee as we need reagents. This time, some portion of the population to be sampled will have received the Covid vaccination, so we have to take that bias into account. Antibodies detected may be due to natural infection or vaccination," Randeep said.

Dr Banandur, however, said that there is no need to know if the immunity is derived from vaccination or natural infection. P3

Not a Kannadiga? Learn up to 5 languages at BU

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @Bengaluru

BANGALORE University Vice-Chancellor KR Venugopal said that students can learn up to five languages at the varsity.

Talking at 'Vikasana: NEP 2020 Vision to Act' at Bengaluru City University on Friday, he said that Kannadigas, who have learned Kannada from Classes 1 to 12, will have compulsory Kannada for four semesters. "They can pursue one other language for either two semesters or four semesters. Should they choose to study the second language for just two semesters, they can study a third language for the third and fourth semester," he explained.

Talking to TNIE on the sidelines of the programme, Venugopal said that non-Kannadigas can choose functional Kannada in first or second semester. In the alternate semester, they can choose another language such as Arabic or Hindi. In the second year, they can learn altogether another language, which brings the count to three languages. Meanwhile, they can also choose a fourth language for the first two semesters, and a fifth language in the third and fourth semester.

Better connectivity at 7 Metro stations

In its Multi-Modal Integration plan, BMRL to develop 30 well-connected hubs across stations

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A much better commuting experience awaits Metro commuters at seven stations in the upcoming Outer Ring Road Line and the Airport Line under Phase-II. The Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRL) has begun the process of providing Multi-Modal Integration at Central Silk Board, Iblur, Marathahalli, K R Puram, Hebbal, Yelahanka and Veeranapalya stations.

The Centre for Infrastructure Sustainable Transportation and Urban Planning (CIS-TUP) at the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) recently submitted a report on its plans to BMRL for Phase 2A (Central Silk Board to K R Puram) and 2B (K R Puram to Kempegowda International Airport) stations.

BMRL Managing Director Anjum Parwez told TNIE that the Corporation proposes to develop 30 well-connected hubs across Metro stations that will offer connectivity with other modes like BMTC, KSRTC, Indian Rail, Suburban Rail, taxis and personal vehicles. "IISc submitted a report on design and plans for the first seven stations. The details can be shared only after the final approval/closure of the project," he added.

Elaborating, Prof. Abdul Rawoof Pinjari, Chairperson of CISTUP said, "A seamless and safe connectivity to and from Metro stations has been the overarching goal. We gave importance to the movement of pedestrians and aimed at reducing the number of conflict points between pedestrians with vehicles. Necessary infrastructure like bus bays, footpaths and skywalks have been planned. Simulation models of pedestrian flow and vehicular movements were created to evaluate and fine tune the designs."

Pinjari said a team from IISc including Prof. Ashish Verma, a faculty member, and Robert Bosch Engineering and Business Solutions Ltd were involved in finalising the report.

Director, Projects, BMRL, D Radhakrishna Reddy, said that apart from the IISc report, Metro had also created its own accessibility plans. "Hebbal and Nagawara are two such crucial stations for which we have a plan. At Hebbal, we are looking at two Road Over Bridges, one connecting the Metro with the railway station and another connecting our station with the other side of the railway track (towards the RT Nagar side)."

CM GIVES BBMP ONE MORE WEEK TO FILL UP POTHOLES

Bengaluru potholes got the benefit of yet another deadline, and this time from Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai himself. On Friday, he instructed Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Commissioner to fill all major potholes within a week. Bommai said that he is ready to go on a city tour. "I agree there has been a delay in filling potholes due to rain," he said. It may be noted that in the past two months, Bengaluru saw a few deaths of motorists due to potholes. Deadlines have been regularly set to fill up potholes, but not met.

Guidelines for Deepavali

Bommai also gave detailed guidelines on Deepavali celebrations, which will be issued soon. The guidelines will cover celebrations and focus on low pollution crackers.

CIVIC BODY BAGS AWARD FOR WORK ON LAKE CONSERVATION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Earth Day Network Star Municipal Leadership Award was conferred on Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) on Friday for rejuvenating 18 lakes in the city and initiating work on seven more.

Neela Majumdar, Senior Manager, Project Developments - India, EarthDay.org and Usha Rajagopalan, Chairperson, PN-LIT handed over the award to BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Friday.

The lakes which BBMP has worked on this year include Chikkabasthi, Gubbabala, Yellanaahalli, Thalaghattapura, Kelagina Byrasandra, Jimkenahalli, Basavanapura, Siddapura, Nagreshwara Nagenahalli, Mahadevapura-2, Sarakki, Begur, Horamavu, Bhattarahalli, Kothanuru, Nalluralli, Gunjur palya and Devarakere.

PVT COLLEGES WORRY ABOUT IMPLEMENTATION

Meanwhile, private colleges are still worried about implementation, despite classes officially starting on October 21. "Despite syllabus being out on October 16, there are still unanswered questions," said private college lecturers associated with the university.

For instance, students are still wondering if they are eligible for the four-year course, said one lecturer. Another major concern is the lack of staff to meet the changing demand for new subjects when it comes to electives. "We do not know what the workload of a subject is going to be till the students choose the particular subject. Colleges are relying on guest faculties," said head of the language department of a private college under BU. A professor at BU rued that the NEP in essence is being touted as a skill centric education, whereas, the focus ought to have been on interdisciplinary learning.

Teaching must be multidisciplinary, says expert

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

DESPITE several colleges being single disciplinary, it is possible to achieve multidisciplinary goal and for this, teachers have to realise that the days of designing a course and teaching it are gone.

They have to change to co-designing and team teaching, said Gopal Krishna Joshi, Executive Director and Member Secretary of Karnataka State Higher Education Council.

He was speaking at 'Vikasana: NEP 2020 Vision to Act', at Bengaluru City University on Friday. Joshi said interdisciplinary approach (blending two disciplines) should not be based on a marriage of convenience, but a marriage of problems - two disciplines marrying to effectively solve a problem - because no real-life problem can be solved by single and classroom disciplinary knowledge.

Agreeing on multidisciplinary approach to problem solving, Gururaj Karajagi, Chairman of Academy of Creative Teaching, Guiding and a council member of Disha Bharat, the non-profit that organised the series of webinars, said teachers must undergo creative teaching training, where they match the students' style of learning and teachers' style of teaching. He rued that there was training on adolescent psychology.

Meanwhile, Joshi said that technology can be leveraged in classrooms and believed and solutions in new-age pedagogy lay in blended approach of teaching and learning, and one must know the business of education.

He stressed the need to implement practices such as problem or project based learning which puts the responsibility of learning on students. Playing on the human tendency to pick a problem and solve it, Joshi said that higher education institutes should use this human tendency and transform novice problem solvers to experts.

30th October: Yesterday I mentioned the theory that the universe is a single, living organism. One other thought I had is that it is a brain, connected by neural pathways, along which galaxies grow, including our own Milky Way. In that case, each of us is a thought in the mind of the cosmos. I don't know about you, but I like this idea!

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 20)

The ball is now in your court as far as a personal matter is concerned. Waste no time if apologies are in order, or if you are dependent on partners' goodwill in other ways. Keep a business proposal under wraps for now, especially if a partner is forcing the pace.

TAURUS (Apr 21-May 21)

It's time to forget about behaviour or actions by friends which have offended your pride. Instead, why don't you atone everybody with your determination to strike out on an entirely new path? It's a fine moment for a spot of shopping therapy, by the way, which is another way of saying, indulge your harmless desires.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

This looks like one of those days when helping yourself is as important as helping others. The curious feature of today's idealistic planetary patterns is that selfless service to others can do you good. You'll also figure out how to handle a domestic responsibility.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)

Spending plans may require urgent attention, possibly because you've over-committed yourself in the past. However, don't feel pressured into acting against your better judgment. Younger relations need your support, by the way, so lend a helping hand.

LEO (July 24-Aug 23)

Given that this is the best day for arranging travel plans, if you are embarking on an unending journey you must be sure to take elementary precautions. Check instructions, directions and other details. Family and friendly developments come together at last.

VIRGO (Aug 24-Sept 23)

It would be false to say that recent efforts have all been in vain. However, you may be wondering just where it is all leading. Try to look at the broader picture. A foreign or legal connection may hold the key to your quest for new personal ambitions and lifestyles. The future begins today!

LIBRA (Sept 24-Oct 23)

You're not often described as a free thinker, but such is the nature of the planetary patterns which will soon be affecting your life, that you should spare no effort in your quest for new personal ambitions and lifestyles. The future begins today!

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22)

You obviously feel that you have been led up the garden path, but this is a common experience for people born under the influence of your sign. You should try to become trusting, and not quite so ready to dismiss people on your first impressions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 22)

Any tension in your partnerships could be a dynamic force for change. This is a time to mix as widely as possible and soak up influences you'd normally shun. You're also likely to make big advances in your business plans, though take it one careful step at a time.

CAPRICORN (Dec 23-Jan 20)

Even though you still feel that others are being inconsiderate, their intentions may be perfectly honourable. It's down to you to break the deadlock by making suggestions which other people will feel obliged to accept. Make someone an offer they can't refuse!

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19)

If you look back, you will see that the past year has been a time of struggles and conflicts as well as rewards and achievements. Your most important gain has been an increase in maturity and depth of experience. That is now going to make you almost invincible.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)

Everyone in sight has been impressed by your obvious skill and expertise in dealing with family affairs. However, tensions have not been resolved, and this is no time to give way to complacency. Concentrate on your inner, spiritual development - just for a change!

HEART ATTACKS ON THE RISE AMONG YOUNG

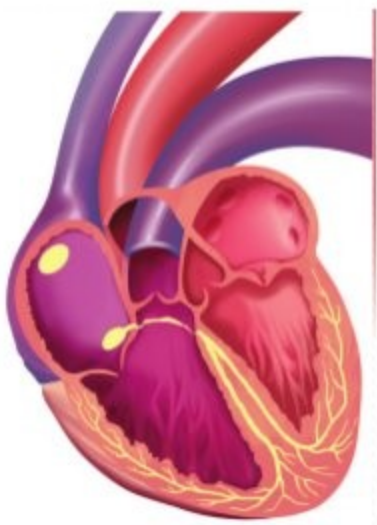

Gym workouts, diet, lifestyle can have impact on cardiac health, say experts

CHETANA BELAGERE@Bengaluru

SANDALWOOD actor Puneeth Rajkumar's untimely demise sent shockwaves and grief across the film fraternity, devoted fans and the public. While some lament the actor's passing at such a young age, there is also concern over the growing prevalence of heart attacks in the younger population. Doctors TNIE spoke to explained some possible reasons why such incidents are occurring regularly.

According to Dr Manjunath CN, Cardiologist and Director of Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Diseases, a heart attack or myocardial infarction refers to a blockage or blood clot being formed within the arteries, which blocks blood flow to the heart. When blood flow is suddenly blocked due to the formation of plaques, an outcome of fatty deposits, including cholesterol, the coronary arteries can narrow down, leading to a heart attack.

In the past few years, deviating from the routine pattern of striking the older population and those with pre-existing heart issues, heart diseases are now prevalent among the young - 25 per cent of those who suffered heart attacks are below 45 years of age, not just in the state but in the entire country. In this, 30 per cent are middle-aged and youngsters with no conventional risk factors like smoking, high BP, diabetes etc.

Dr Abhijith Kulkarni, Cardiologist, Apollo Hospitals, says though there is no exact reason for such MI incidents, "lifestyle choices, your diet plan, workout routine and how you manage your stress levels can influence the possibilities of a heart attack".

However, Dr Manjunath says in many people blockages develop gradually, following which there are symptoms like chest discomfort, previous heart conditioning etc, but in some cases - like Puneeth Rajkumar, Sidharth Shukla and Chiranjeevi Sarja - it happens without any

TAKE THESE PRECAUTIONS

- Regular cardiac check-up
- Visit a cardiologist if there is strong family history of cardiac ailments
- Change sedentary lifestyle
- Curb excess sugar consumption, monitor lipids, control fat consumption
- Smoking and drinking alcohol should be avoided
- Avoid isometric exercises, do more isotonic exercises
- Do not unnecessarily take supplements warning symptoms.

He says intense workouts in the gym, protein shakes and other factors can precipitate heart attacks. It is always better to avoid isometric exercises like lifting of weights, and instead go for isotonic ones like walking and cycling. Isometric exercises add strain to muscles, which can rupture the plaques in the heart, Dr Manjunath said.

According to doctors, family history of cardiovascular diseases is also a very strong factor. In Puneeth Rajkumar's case too, both his brothers Shivarajkumar and Raghavendra Rajkumar have had cardiac attacks. Stress and lifestyle also add to the disease.

B'luru school shuts after student tests Covid +ve

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THREE sections of a school in Basavanagudi were shut down after a student tested positive for Covid-19 on Wednesday. However, officials clarified that he got infected at home and not at school.

The boy's grandmother tested positive on Monday. After this, the Class 8 student stopped coming to school. Once his test turned positive, the three sections of the eight standard were sanitised and shut.

"There were anyway less students to begin with due to a mix of offline and online classes. The swab samples of the remaining 15 students have been taken and the results are awaited. Students are returning to school after nearly two years and this incident must not spread fear and panic," said a BBMP health official.

Recently, 33 students of Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalaya in Galibeedu, Madikeri tested positive. The institution reopened on September 20 and students from across the district reported for offline classes.

Antibody prevalence after second survey in Karnataka just 15.6%

"We have suggested to the government that there be no exclusion of any age group this time. All districts will be part of the survey, where RT-PCR tests will be used for detection of active infection," he said.

In the state's second Covid sero survey, lower levels of Immunoglobulin G (IgG) seropreva-lence due to antibody waning were revealed.

The IgG is the most common type of antibody found in the blood. The estimated IgG prevalence at the end of the second survey was just 15.6 per cent and was markedly lower than the estimated total infection of 27.7 per cent at the end of the first serosurvey. However, TNIE exclusively reported in November 2020 that nearly half of Karnataka's population was infected by Covid-19 by August 2020, not just in urban areas, but in the villages too, according to a private sero survey conducted between mid-June and August.

New non-invasive cost-effective alternative to knee surgery

How often have you winced in pain while climbing up stairs? While getting up from a chair, do your knees hurt like hell because you feel a stiffness? Or do you have an elderly family member who sways from side to side as they walk because putting pressure on their knee causes pain? Is knee replacement surgery the only solution being offered?

Unfortunately, many people are scared of surgery. Or cannot afford it. Or have other interfering medical complications. After trying some massage oils, painkillers or balms they simply learn to live with chronic knee pain bringing down their quality of life dramatically.

What they may not realise is that they may be suffering from Arthritis. A simple medical diagnosis and treatment can bring much relief and make them painlessly mobile again. Many people do not venture to explore new-age non-invasive more modern and easy techniques that give relief and set you on the road to recovery.

But first, know what this "knee pain" or "joint pain" actually is.

Arthritis of the knee is an inflammation of the knee joint - the point where your bones meet and move. This point is covered by a shock-absorbing matter called cartilage. Wear and tear or degeneration of this knee cartilage with progressing age is one of the most common causes, and is called osteoarthritis. It has been globally proven to be one of the major causes of disability in the elderly, severely restricting movement. The prevalence of knee osteoarthritis in the India is found to be 28.7%, according to National Centre for Biotechnology Information (NCBI).

No need for painful and expensive surgery

"Unfortunately, most elderly people who often suffer from arthritis can't undergo surgery because of their age factor. Many also have other comorbidities and medical complications which prevent them from undergoing surgery," says Dr Shuaib Kausar, Chief Consultant at Bengaluru-based clinic Total Orthocare, who has over two decades of experience in the field. "In many such cases we suggest PEMF Therapy for patients," he adds.

Pulsed Electromagnetic Field (PEMF) therapy is an easy, non-invasive, no-risk, painless, and cost-effective treatment method, which reduces and eventually resolves the inflammation, and further promotes new cell growth in the knee joint. It is a therapy that is administered over 4 weeks and at a substantially lower cost than knee surgery.

PEMF also helps in case of rheumatoid arthritis of the knee. This is an autoimmune disorder that can strike people who are still in their 20s and 30s. "In such cases, PEMF, along with rheumatoid medication can relieve

ADVANTAGES OF PEMF THERAPY

- ◆ No side effects
- ◆ Outpatient treatment with no requirement for hospitalization
- ◆ Patients of any age may be treated pain and swelling and improve movement by regenerating cartilage," adds Dr. Kausar

The revolutionary PEMF Therapy available at Total Orthocare can also be effective in osteoarthritis that is in very early stages and can be used as a prevention technique. "Arthritis is a slow progressive disease. If diagnosed early, one can prevent further damage to the knees. Anyone aged 45 and above who develops knee pain that lasts over a month should get themselves evaluated by a doctor for arthritis," advises Dr. Kausar.

GRIEF HANGS HEAVY OVER GAJANUR VILLAGE

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

IT was not just Karnataka which went into mourning after the untimely death of Puneeth Rajkumar. People in border villages of Erode district in Tamil Nadu — like Gajanur, where the Rajkumar family has ancestral property, and Talawadi — who were expecting his arrival on Friday, were numbed by the shock.

Puneeth was scheduled to visit Gajanur on Friday to call on his aunt Nagamma (his father, the late Dr Rajkumar's sister), who has been bedridden. He had also planned to relax for two days and head to Mysuru on Monday where he was to climb Chamundi Hills by steps for darshan of presiding deity Goddess Chamundeshwari. The family in Gajanur had also put up a gate at the entrance of the farm house to avoid crowding during his stay. As news trickled in, villagers of Gajanur and Puneeth's fans in Talawadi and other places stayed glued to television sets for confirmation about his death. Many broke down on seeing the main gates of 'Doddamane', Rajkumar's farmhouse, locked.

"Whenever he paid a visit, he always greeted people with a smile. It feels like we have lost a member of the family," said Mahesh, a shop owner in Talawadi. "I avoided visiting Gajanur as everyone is in grief. Appu's death is a great loss to Karnataka, the film industry and to humanity," he added.

Nagarajappa, a farmer, said the villagers saw in Puneeth most of the qualities they found in his father Dr Rajkumar. "During his visits, he would always inquire about our wellbeing," he said. Locals also recalled that Puneeth had shown interest in farming.

Puneeth had last visited Gajanur along with his brothers Shivaraj Kumar, Raghavendra Rajkumar and sisters for registration of the ancestral property. During the stay, Puneeth visited the ancestral house in Doddagajanur village, some local temples and even interacted with those who were associated with his father Rajkumar, who was popularly known as Muthanna locally.

After the news of his death spread, shops and commercial establishments were closed in Kollegal and parts of Chamara-janagar as a mark of respect to the actor.

HUGE crowds continued to pour in at the Sree Kanteerava Outdoor Stadium late into the night on Friday after popular Kannada actor Puneeth Rajkumar's mortal remains were brought there around 7 pm for fans and the general public to pay their last respects. Most of the film artistes and industry workers lined up to pay their last respects to the actor; even as thousands of teary-eyed diehard fans of the ever-smiling actor converged on the venue, as slogans hailing him rent the air.

At least 6,000 policemen were deployed at the venue to ensure strict vigil, besides beefing up security across the city. Commercial establishments downed shutters in the afternoon as a mark of respect for the actor as well as fearing unruly behaviour by anti-social elements.

The police had also made elaborate security arrangements around the actor's residence in Sadashivnagar, where the body was brought from Vikram Hospital. At least 1,000 policemen were deployed as thousands of fans gathered

Cops go easy on curfew

Despite the Covid-19 curfew in force from 11 pm to 5 am, the city police have taken a lenient approach on Friday and Saturday to allow people to visit the Kanteerava Stadium through the day and night to pay their last respects to Puneeth Rajkumar. Meanwhile, the police have issued orders prohibiting the sale of liquor till Sunday midnight as a precautionary measure.

There. Traffic was affected around Cauvery Junction and Mehkri Circle as the police blocked connecting roads around the locality. Even neighbours were not allowed to enter the locality for some time.

When the mortal remains reached the residence, fans tried to jump over barricades to catch a last glimpse of their star. The police had to resort to mild lathi-charge when the fans demanded to be allowed near the house. Crowds ran inside a bank and ATMs to escape the canning. The police also forced a couple of media persons, who were video-recording the caning using a drone, away from place.

Meanwhile, traffic was also thrown out of gear on Cunningham Road, Miller's Road, Ali Asgar Road and in Vasanthnagar. Several two-wheelers parked on Ballari Road were towed away by the traffic police. At least 1,000 policemen were posted at Vikram Hospital where the actor was rushed to after he suffered a massive cardiac arrest on Friday morning. The crowds started to swell near the hospital after Puneeth Rajkumar's death was officially announced around 2.15 pm. City Police Commissioner Kamal Pant rushed to Vikram Hospital and took stock of the security arrangements. Senior police officials were also rushed to Kanteerava Stadium to supervise security.

Before being brought to the stadium, the actor's body was taken to his residence in Sadashivnagar under heavy security, trailed by thousands of fans. Roads around Sadashivnagar were blocked to control the fans, but they were already present near the house much earlier.

A police officer said all police stations have been asked to remain alert and make all necessary security arrangements.

KMF ambassador without remuneration

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING in the footsteps of his late father Dr Rajkumar, Puneeth Rajkumar too donned the Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) brand ambassador's cap without accepting any remuneration. In the 10 years that Puneeth endorsed KMF products, there was no actual agreement between him and the Federation.

AS Premnath, former KMF MD, told TNIE that Dr Rajkumar was the brand ambassador in the 1990s. "That was his first and last endorsement for any product, and it was advertised in newspapers and on Doordarshan. The legendary actor did not take money," he added.

After Dr Rajkumar died in 2006, KMF did not have an ambassador for a few years. "In 2011, I met Puneeth and asked him if he could endorse KMF. He readily accepted," Premnath recalled. It was also an idea of then KMF chairman Somashekar Reddy.

Asked about remuneration,

Puneeth had said, "When my father endorsed your products without taking a paisa, how can I demand money?"

The actor endorsed Nandini Goodlife tetra packs in the first year. "When we told him the advertisement will be shot at a government school in a remote village near Devarayanadurga, he obliged. We shot the advertisement for three days. He would reach the spot at 8 am and leave only at 6 pm. I remember him as a very down-to-earth person. He would sit with the children and have lunch," he recalled. "With just his endorsement, KMF products started seeing good sales. That was the power of Puneeth," he said.

PRAKASH BELAWADI

HE was fit, he was happy and he was very active. He was ever amiable, down to earth and full of new plans. Barring the first six months after birth, he has been an actor of the screen for 46 years. Anyone around him would say he could go on and on for another 40 years. Until, he was cut down in his prime, yesterday. There will be tears and tributes from his fans, from every single person who knew him in the industry, from his large circle of family, friends and well-wishers, and the beneficiaries of all his charitable deeds. There will remain in us for a long, long time this deep sense of loss, a disconsolate grief that this good, kind and decent human, Appu, the universal brother, has been snatched away so abruptly, so wantonly by whatever fate or power that chooses to play with our lives.

The loss is not just emotional. Puneeth Rajkumar, in many ways, was the hope and possibility for a new generation of young filmmakers who have been imagining and writing new scripts to steer Kannada cinema through these challenging times brought on by digital cinema. With his enterprising wife Ashwini, he had launched PRK Productions four years ago to support youngsters who could produce viable new content for the big screen. The couple was patiently listening to scripts, financing and guiding the process from script to screen. PRK Productions is one of the very few Kannada banners that has the attention of big OTT platforms. With Covid plaguing the world, Kannada cinema production, which was already under threat because of its small markets and aggressive competition from other language cinema, will feel the shock of this loss with greater accompanying despair. We needed Puneeth Rajkumar. He was much loved, a genuine star with a mass following. He was getting ready to announce a slew of new projects, now that Covid was showing signs of abatement. His passing has hurt us, made the Kannada world empty, indeed the cinema community in India, empty. It makes us anguished and a little angry. Why him?

Last rites tomorrow

DOCTORS tried their best to revive him, but the efforts proved futile. Thousands of fans waiting outside the hospital to hear some positive news were shattered and inconsolable when informed that their 'Raajakumara' was no more.

At his Sadashivanagar residence his wife Ashwini, the younger daughter, others performed rituals.

After deliberations with the family members of the actor, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai issued directions to make arrangements at Kanteerava Studios for the last rites. The family is waiting for Puneeth's elder daughter Dhruvi, who is abroad, to return on Sunday. The last rites will be conducted with full state honours and Puneeth will be laid to rest next to his father Dr Rajkumar and mother Parvathamma.

Rajkumar had played a pivotal role in creating awareness on the importance of donating eyes. His eyes were also donated when he passed away in 2006. Continuing the noble job, the family members donated the eyes of Puneeth Rajkumar.

A hero, he was always ready to give a push to smaller artists, appearing in cameo roles in movies like Paddehuli, Humble Politician Nograaj and Lucky Man.

Friday was to be the day of celebration for Sandalwood with the release of Puneeth's brother Shivarajkumar's big-ticket flick Bhajarangi-2. The sad and unexpected news broke when the second screening of the movie was half-way through, pulling a pall of gloom over the film industry and pushing entire Karnataka into deep mourning.

Cong shielded accused in 2018: CM

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday hit out at Congress leaders for accusing the government of protecting those involved in the bitcoin case. He accused the Congress of failing to take action when the accused, Srikrishna, was named in a case related to a pub brawl in Bengaluru in February 2018. A Congress

BITCOIN CASE

MLA's son and his associates were arrested in the case.

"Srikrishna was named as accused in a case registered at Cubbon Park police station in February 2018.

Though the other accused were arrested, he was allowed to get anticipatory bail. If he was arrested and investigated, his other activities would have come to light. Why did they let him go?" the CM questioned. Srikrishna was arrested for procuring drugs through the dark web in 2020, and the probe revealed that he was a hacker. Three cases were registered and chargesheets filed. "The probe in the money laundering case is complete and we are waiting for the forensic report. As the accounts are in foreign countries, we referred the case to the Enforcement Directorate on March 3, and to CBI's Interpol Branch on April 28, 2021," the CM said.

Need eco-nod for TS irrigation project: NGT

State had submitted that it was constructing a drinking water component, didn't need permission

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

IN a major setback to Telangana, the Southern Zone Bench of the National Green Tribunal (NGT) has restrained the neighbouring State from going ahead with the Palamuru Rangareddy Lift Irrigation Scheme (PRLIS) without obtaining environmental clearance (EC) from the Union Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change by issuing an interim order of injunction.

Rejecting TS' argument that the PRLIS was only a drinking water component now, the tribunal noted that there will be "irreparable and irreversible injury" to the environment if the project is not stopped until the EC is obtained.

The tribunal pronounced the order to this effect on Friday with respect to a petition filed by Kadapa farmer D Chandramouleswara Reddy and others against the PRLIS alleging that TS had violated environmental norms by going ahead with the project execution sans requisite clearances.

The tribunal rejected TS' objection of maintainability on the question of limitation and stated that the objection was not sustainable. It may be recalled that the Andhra Pradesh government was also a respondent in the petition. In another petition against the PRLIS filed by a Telangana resident, AP implemented and argued that the project was being executed in violation of environmental norms.

TS has repeatedly submitted to the tribunal that it was only constructing a drinking water component and hence does not need environmental clearance. However, the tribunal, agreed that the State has the responsibility to supply water. The tribunal's order also stated that the joint committee it appointed submits a report confirming that irrigation component works were also being taken up.

TN opens 2 dam shutters, no flooding

NEJMA SULAIMAN @ Idukki

ENDING days of anxiety, Tamil Nadu raised two shutters of the Mullaperiyar dam, releasing 534 cusecs of water at 7.29am on Friday. The controlled release of water ensured that there is no flooding in downstream areas or emergency situation in the already brimming Idukki dam.

Despite the flaring up of emotions on both sides, the air was cordial at Mullaperiyar dam site and Kerala Water Resources Minister Roshy Augustine and Revenue Minister K Rajan were present as Tamil Nadu staff lifted the spillway gates.

As the Supreme Court has allowed Tamil Nadu to store water up to 138 feet, the maximum level set by Central Water Commission till October 31, only water above the limit is being released from the dam. It had a storage of 138.85 feet at 7pm and 3,523 cusecs.

As the water level continued to rise, Tamil Nadu increased the spill marginally to 550 cusecs. Later at 9pm, Tamil Nadu started releasing 825 cusecs of water from the dam. Most of the residents on the banks had moved to the houses of relatives or friends in the upper regions.

NEW DAM ONLY SOLUTION, REITERATES MINISTER

Revenue Minister Rajan noted that the construction of a new dam is the only solution to address the concerns of people living downstream and the government will move forward till a consensus is reached. Rajan said though the weather department has issued an orange alert in Idukki on Saturday, preparations of a red alert have been made.

Karnataka slips to 7th rank in governance

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KERALA emerged on top, retaining its 2020 ranking, in the 6th edition of the Public Affairs Index 2021, followed by Tamil Nadu and Telangana in the large states category. Karnataka, which ranked fourth in 2020, slipped three ranks to 7, as it performed moderately during the pandemic. This was one of the parameters of the analysis, among other centrally-sponsored welfare schemes.

Bengaluru-based Public Affairs Centre (PAC) on Friday launched the 6th edition of the index virtually.

In the smaller states category, Sikkim emerged first, followed by Goa and Mizoram. Puducherry achieved top rank among Union Territories, followed by Jammu and Kashmir and Chandigarh. Uttar Pradesh ranked first from the bottom as the worst performing large state, Manipur among small states and Andaman and Nicobar Islands in UTs.

PAC Director G Gurucharan emphasised, "PAI 2021 provides state-specific rationale for strategic interventions in investing in sectors and spaces that are most in need of help. Using data analytics, it argues that the most sensible investment thesis for each state is one that centres on development deficits..."

The report featured a separate analysis on five centrally-sponsored schemes, including National Health Mission, Integrated Child Development Services, Samagra Siksha Abhiyan, the Mid-Day Meal Scheme and the Mahatma Gandhi Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme.

Cherian returns to Cong after 20 years with CPM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ T' Puram

ENDING two decades of camaraderie with the CPM, Cherian Philip on Friday announced his return to the Congress.

Cherian Philip

"If India has to live, then Congress should live," he told reporters here after meeting his one-time mentor and veteran leader A K Antony. Announcing that state president K Sudhakaran had welcomed him back to the party on Thursday, Cherian Philip said that if he switched sides during the Congress' heyday, now it is time for him to serve the party when it is not in the pink of health. The 67-year-old accused the Left front of destroying his "political relevance" and alleged that there was no freedom of opinion in the CPM.

Despite several queries from reporters, he remained guarded in his comments against the CPM, which had appointed him as the KTDC chairman during the V S Achuthanandan government and as the Nava Keralam Mission coordinator during the first Pinarayi Vijayan government.

'BOMB' SCARE AT NAIDU'S KUPPAM ROADSHOW

COMMOTION and chaos prevailed for sometime during a roadshow of TDP chief N Chandrababu Naidu in Kuppam on Friday when party cadres caught and assaulted a person suspecting that he was in possession of an explosive.

It all started when a huge rally, taken out by TDP cadre to welcome Naidu on the first day of his visit to Kuppam, reached the R&B guest house. The TDP workers caught a person accusing him of carrying explosives to attack their

Huzurabad bypolls today, all three candidates tense

Huzurabad: All arrangements are in place for polling in the Huzurabad byelection on Saturday morning. In a few hours, voters would decide the fate of the principal contestants -- Gellu Srinivas Yadav of TRS and Eatala Rajender of BJP. Though Congress nominee Balmoor Venkat Narsing Rao is also in the fray, the main battle appears to be between TRS and the BJP. The district election authorities have beefed up security. About 20 companies of Central forces, 74 special police, 700 district police and 1,471 police forces from other district have been deployed at sensitive polling booth areas.

AS CREDIT CYCLE TAKES OFF, MUST AVOID IRRATIONAL LENDING

If the projected economic growth recovery sustains, the credit cycle will likely take off next fiscal. That's good news for banks, which are battling dismal growth for several quarters at a stretch. In FY22, credit growth is pegged at 7.5-8%, better than the 5% seen in FY21 and 6.8% during the pre-pandemic FY20. That said, it's important to avoid the mistakes of the past credit cycle. As the RBI noted, the six-year period between 2007-08 and 2013-14 saw bank credit boom as non-food credit registered double-digit growth driven by the star sector—industry, including infrastructure. But when the cycle reversed, it took six years (and counting) between 2014-15 and 2020-2021 to clean up the mess, during which overall credit growth decelerated, with industry emerging as the anti-hero.

Incidentally though, during the entire correction phase, the overall non-food credit growth was primarily driven by the retail segment, particularly personal loans, whose share in outstanding bank credit touched 25.9% as on March 2021 from 16.4% a decade ago—which means some amount of bad loans are inevitable. In contrast, industrial loans decelerated and even turned negative for the first time in FY21, with working capital loans that account for a third of total credit contracting last fiscal. But more than the decline in industrial loans, it's the toxic loan pile that bled both banks' books and credibility.

Now, as the twin-balance sheet problem is getting out of the way and corporate stress is reducing, it's about time for the credit market to defreeze. As aggregate demand picks up and capacity utilisation increases, industries will be out scouting for credit. And when the cycle takes off, some amount of bad loans are unavoidable, just like how genuine business failures are integral to the corporate world. But as they say, it's the dose that makes the poison. Banks, their promoters, particularly the government, and the banking regulator must be vigilant to avoid irrational lending. If the NPA problem repeats this time, it'll knock down the government's ambitious bank privatisation plan 360 degrees out of phase.

FOR A BREATH OF FRESH AIR IN CHENNAI

It is not unusual for Chennai to get draped in smog, like other metropolitan cities in India. With industrial and vehicular pollution constantly rising, a dip in air quality has been a problem for some time. Being a coastal city, the sea breeze has helped keep pollution levels under check. But of late, the air quality is worsening, making life miserable for the residents already suffering from respiratory issues, and many are developing breathing-related problems. The rains and prevailing overcast conditions in the city have apparently slowed down the dispersion rate of air pollutants. What is scary is that the air quality has slipped days ahead of Deepavali.

All seven Continuous Ambient Air Quality Monitoring Stations (CAAQMSs) in Chennai have cried out in harmony that the city residents are breathing polluted air. An analysis of data during different intervals on October 28 showed Kodungaiyur was the most polluted area with the air quality index (AQI) clocking a distressing 202. The AQI largely depends on particulate matter of less than 2.5 microns (PM_{2.5}), whose level has risen alarmingly across the city. It is indeed worrying that Chennai is among cities with the highest levels of particulate matter. The massive industrialisation and scant regard for the environment are contributing their might to the air pollution. It is well documented that air pollutants have a complex relationship with climate change too. Some pollutants, such as black carbon and ozone, increase global warming.

It is time for the TN government to enhance monitoring of air quality across cities, and identify the pollution clusters and sources of pollution. In the Chennai Metropolitan Development Area alone, it should increase the number of CAAQMSs. Taking a cue from the Delhi model, it can invest in low-cost monitors. Traditionally, thermal power plants in North Chennai have been a major source of pollution. It is important to ensure that plants comply with norms. The aging units may be decommissioned. The government should also promote electromobility and other cleaner modes of transport. In short, it needs to implement a time-bound plan before it is too late.

The recent trend in India's mortality curve is disturbing. The number of deaths due to the coronavirus have almost tripled in the last seven days

THE NEED FOR VAX BOOSTER SHOTS AS COVID DEATHS RISE

DR M S SESHADRI
Medical Director, Thirumalai Mission Hospital, Ranipet

DRT JACOB JOHN
Former Professor of Clinical Virology, CMC, Vellore

India's healthcare system has delivered 1 billion doses of Covid vaccines—one dose cover for 52% of the total population but two doses cover only for 22.5%. This triumphant moment also calls for calm reflection and planning the next moves.

Covid has become endemic in India, with daily new cases fewer than 20,000, a fact acknowledged by Dr Soumya Swaminathan, Chief Scientist, World Health Organization (WHO). Also, active cases (source of infection) are now less than 2,00,000 and steadily falling.

During the endemic phase, the proportion of non-immune susceptible people will be small, but reinfections (in those previously infected) and breakthrough infections (in those who had received two doses of vaccine) will rise; eventually, breakthrough infections will outnumber reinfections (immunity is stronger after infection than after a two-dose vaccination).

However, the recent trend in India's mortality curve is disturbing—daily deaths that reached a nadir of 176 on October 21 have almost tripled in the last seven days to 593, but daily new cases remain stationary (15,108 vs 14,727). Unless we administer booster doses to the elderly and vulnerable (with waned immunity after two doses of vaccine), this trend of increasing serious Covid, hospitalisation and death will continue. Recently, two eminent personalities (Colin Powell in the US and a senior cardiologist in India) lost their lives to Covid despite two doses, illustrating this problem.

The WHO's interim report on October 4 cautioned against a booster. But a week later, the Strategic Advisory Group of Experts (SAGE) on Immunization recommended a booster for the moderately or severely immunocompromised individuals—making a clearly visible shift in recommendation.

The booster dose of all common vaccines, ideally given six months or more after the priming doses, induce a brisk and durable antibody response. A Covid booster will probably be no exception. A large, controlled clinical trial (yet to be peer-reviewed) done recently by Pfizer in those above the age of 18 showed that a booster 11 months after the second dose prevented breakthrough infections (including that of the Delta variant) by 95.6%—which will translate into less frequent severe Covid and lower mortality.

In India, an ICMR study showed that more than 80% of breakthrough infections are due to the Delta variant. Also, a study of vaccinated healthcare workers at CMC, Vellore, showed that two doses of the current Covid vaccines gave only 36% protection.

Two groups deserve special focus.

Vaccinated healthcare workers, at high risk for breakthrough infections because of occupational exposure to coronavirus; the elderly and vulnerable in households with school-going children (with the reopening of schools, unvaccinated children are likely to bring the prevailing variant home). A booster dose for such people is a necessary life-saving preventive measure.

The magnitude and durability of the immune response to a booster dose of Covaxin are being studied in Indian subjects (results yet to be published). Whether a third dose of Covishield as a booster will elicit a brisk response is yet to be studied as the immune system exposed to the carrier adenovirus twice earlier may mount an immune response to the adenovirus and mute the response to the coronavirus spike protein.

However, with the sharp uptick in Covid mortality in India, there is an urgent need to start giving booster doses to those at high risk. It will be unethical to have a control group without the benefit of a booster; this may result in serious disease or death.

Healthcare workers above age 65 and those even younger but with a comorbidity should be offered the booster. Prospective follow-up will be easier in this group and inform us about the efficacy and safety outcomes after a booster dose.

Unvaccinated elderly and vulnerable (including healthcare workers) who had previous infections and have not had a vaccine dose should get a single jab. Those who had Covid followed by one or two vaccine doses and those who had two doses of vaccine followed by a breakthrough infection will already have boosted immunity (combined response to infection and vaccine) and hence would not need an additional dose at present. A random sample of such subjects should be studied to assess the durability of the immunity. This will help us plan the future course of action.

The US FDA approved mixing of mRNA vaccines for the booster shot for eligible subjects. This means those who received two doses of Pfizer vaccine can opt for Moderna as the booster.

An inadvertent vaccine mix-up in UP (where 18 subjects had Covishield as the first shot and Covaxin for the second dose) studied by the ICMR demonstrated a better immune response than two doses of Covishield. This serendipitous observation, albeit in a small group, supports the use of Covaxin as a booster in those who had two doses of Covishield earlier. Standard practice dictates Covaxin booster for those with primary Covaxin doses.

Booster doses need only a revision of policy since both vaccines have Emergency Use Authorisation. The government needs to take a nuanced stand: the endemic state of Covid in India, vaccine availability and number of breakthrough infections causing severe disease should dictate policy. With improved vaccine availability, booster doses for the elderly and vulnerable can be undertaken concurrently with the second dose for those who had only one jab.

India needs to learn to live with endemic Covid and this demands two policy shifts. One, begin vaccinating children as early as possible to reduce the size of the virus reservoir (see Why we need to vaccinate our kids against Covid, Oct 23) and two, administering booster shots as described above. The study of durability of immunity will guide plans for the need, if any, and timing of subsequent booster(s) in the elderly, vulnerable and eventually, the entire population.

SOURADIP SINHA

AN AUCTION HOUSE DEALER AND A PALLAVA LION IN NZ

S VIJAY KUMAR

Co-Founder, India Pride Project, and author of The Idol Thief

We now look at another failure of the Indian legal system wherein due to their myopic attitude and procedural lacunae, the custodians of our antiquities not only failed to secure the conviction of Indian smugglers but also let go of a golden opportunity to prosecute Spink & Son, a prominent antiquities dealership in London.

The case Arun Gupta vs State (CBI) pertains to a customs seizure of a shipment of five antiquities on 1 May 1992 at the Indira Gandhi International Airport in Delhi. It went on criminal appeal and the verdict setting aside the trial court conviction was delivered on 22 July 2014.

The facts of the case are pretty straightforward. The Delhi firm Nova Fashions, through customs shipping bill no. 19082 dated 30 April 1992 presented by Arun Gupta, was alleged to have presented the consignment of six packages containing the aforesaid items before the authorities as filed by the customs house agent. The antiquities were to be exported to the UK.

When checked, the consignment was found to contain three antique items: 1. Part of a pillar depicting dharma chakra and other decorated motifs; 2. Part of a pillar depicting a stupa and other decorated motifs; 3. Seated Jain Tirthankara in dhyana mudra on a pedestal.

The trial court had noted that Bruce Miller, an antiquity dealer from the US working for Spink &

Son, had conspired with Gupta in trying to export the items. Though Miller was called a proclaimed offender, no investigation was initiated or action taken against him by the authorities!

For those who are new to the antiquities trade, Spink & Son was a "premier" art auction house/dealership for over three centuries before it was acquired by the famous Christie's auction house in 1993 (a year after the Delhi seizure). Even though Christie's should have the bookkeeping records of Spink, it has been adamant and not put it out in the public domain. Yet, Christie's frequently sells artefacts with a Spink & Son provenance on its platform and chooses not to reveal past that. In a recent report based on the Pandora Papers on Douglas Latchford, the famous art dealer indicted for smuggling artefacts, the Washington Post reported that according to US prosecutors, a "Spink & Son representative was aware of the plans to create false documentation for Khmer antiquities".

Now our work with like-minded friends in Nepal has recently revealed the hand of Bruce Miller in the sale of the Taleju Temple necklace. Provenance records mention that it was sold by Bruce Miller Antiquities of Sausalito in California on 22 June 1976 to the Alsdorf Foundation—the very year that the necklace was believed to have been stolen in Kathmandu. As reported by Nepali Times, "Sweta Gyani Baniya, an assistant professor at Virginia Tech University, recently visited the Art Institute of Chicago and was appalled by what she saw. Among them was an intricate gilt-copper necklace stolen from Kathmandu's Taleju Temple 45 years ago."

So what did India do with the case against Miller and Spink? Nothing. And the exporter was released of all charges. Let us see why.

In the first instance this seizure itself was a chance occurrence due to the diligence of customs inspector Narayan Singh, who stopped the shipment just before it was being loaded. It had previously been cleared by a Customs assistant commissioner without verification.

A point to note here is the records are scanty, but the norm in these cases would be to do an audit of all past shipments of the same exporter and importer to arrive at the scale of the smuggling operation. But for some reason the case was restricted to just this shipment.

The then deputy superintendent archaeologist of the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) at IGI Airport, D V Sharma, examined the objects under reference and declared that five pieces were suspected to be antiquities. He then referred the matter to the director general of ASI for expert advice. It now gets complicated. In his cross-examination, he admitted that out of the five pieces which he suspected to be antiquities, two were found to be non-antiquities by the director general.

This is where the case derailed. To prove that these five items included three antiquities, the prosecution was to examine Dr I K Sharma, Director General, ASI. Despite ample opportunities, the court noted that the "prosecution could not secure the presence of (I K) Sharma" and he "could not be examined by the prosecution or cross-examined by the accused as to his opinion contained in his report that three items, out of the five sent to his office, were actually antiquities". So one of the main reasons that the case failed was because someone in the position of DG ASI couldn't turn up in court to defend his identification.

Bruce Miller and his wife Jane Casey were active in the art market for many decades and lived in Thailand before purchasing a sprawling estate with a vineyard in Marlborough, New Zealand in 2009 and naming it Bhudevi. It was put up for sale in 2019 and a description in a New Zealand real estate site read: "Their years immersed in Asian culture also influenced what they did to make the home their own, adding Indian sculpture features in the garden, and decorating the house with their Asian art."

It is disturbing that our sacred murthis including a rare 8th century Pallava lion pillar and Ganesha are "sculpture features". Perhaps the Indian government can wake up, take efforts to verify their provenance and look at bringing them back from New Zealand, while we work on the scores of artefacts that have gone via this route out of India—for instance, a dharma chakra in New York's Met Museum with a 1963 Spink & Son provenance from Andhra Pradesh.

Sidhu vs Punjab Cong

To upset the apple cart of the Punjab Congress in the coming state Assembly elections, former chief minister Capt Amarinder Singh could arguably play a huge role. But state Congress chief Navjot Singh Sidhu, with his mercurial nature and my-way-or-the-highway attitude, would be the real thorn in the flesh for the Channi government. A Raveendranath, Aramula

Hindus in our neighbourhood

This is with reference to The march of bigotry in Bangladesh (Oct 29). The state of minorities among the nations in the subcontinent is quite different. While they are appeased by the political class in India, severe neglect and apathy is inflicted on them in many other countries like Bangladesh. Bringing Hindu refugees may not be a long-term solution; rather, New Delhi could try to use its might to influence such nations to protect their minorities. Chaitanya Ram, Bengaluru

Museum plan for North, South Blocks, SC told

Ministries to be relocated in buildings being developed along Rajpath, govt tells court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @NewDelhi

THE North and South Blocks, which cover nearly 27 acres housing important ministries government offices, are proposed to be converted into national museums under the Central Vista redevelopment project, the Centre has informed the Supreme Court.

The Centre's affidavit stated that all the ministries will be relocated in the Common Central Secretariat buildings being developed on two sides of Rajpath.

The submissions were made in response to a petition challenging a notification for change in land use of Plot 1. Arguing that the notification allowed the conversion of recreational plot into residential one, the petitioner sought judicial scrutiny contending that Plot 1 takes over open spaces of a children's recreational park and a bus terminal.

Refuting these arguments as misconceived and praying for dismissal of the petition with costs, the Centre said the plot in question has never been opened to the public and is being used as offices of the Ministry of Defence for almost 90 years now.

"The respondents are cognizant of the public nature of the projects and specifically seek to add various public facilities to the larger vision plan and has suo moto created a lot of space for recreational purposes. It is submitted that there are both qualitative and quantitative increase in public spaces in larger vision," the affidavit stated.

"For example, North and South Blocks which cover nearly 27 acres and are proposed to be converted into National Museums showcasing 'India in Making' prehistoric to present date. The museums will be open to the public at large and serve important public purposes," it stated.

In addition, nearly 118 hectares of land — near Akshardham Temple on eastern bank of the Yamuna and near IP Thermal Power Station on western bank — is being developed as AMRUT Biodiversity Park "to commemorate 75 years of India's Independence fulfilling the recreational purpose aspirations of public at large," the affidavit stated.

A bench headed by Justice A M Khanwilkar adjourned the hearing to November 16 after being informed that a reply has been filed online.

Cong step to prevent fake membership

RICHA SHARMA @NewDelhi

AFTER burning fingers in 2019 Lok Sabha elections owing to bogus membership data generated through 'Shakti App', the Congress is working on a fool-proof system to launch the digital membership drive starting November 1 before organisational elections.

The membership drive, to be launched by the Congress Data Cell under investment banker Praveen Chakravarty, who was criticised for party's rout in 2019 election after it provided misleading inputs based on false data, is coming up with a digital system that will prevent fake membership data entry with an inbuilt process to validate it.

"The Data Cell has asked all state units to provide names of party office bearers who will be directly involved with the membership drive and will be accountable for the entire process," said a member of the Data Cell.

Congress general secretary incharge for UP Priyanka Gandhi Vadra had flagged bogus membership issues during a recent meeting of party general secretaries, state in-charges and senior leaders chaired by Sonia Gandhi to discuss the membership drive, among other issues.

"She was categorical that the focus should be on enrollment of genuine people who want to work for the party rather than exaggerated membership figures of random enrollment. She said the party should be wary of inflated membership numbers and even if they get 5 genuine workers, it is fine," said a senior party leader.

The party will run a membership drive from November 1 to March 31, 2022 before electing a new party president by September 2022.

The All India Congress Committee Data Analytics as AICC Technology was reorganised as Data Cell within the organisation in September 2020. It was given a mandate to take various technology initiatives by development of appropriate systems.

Incredible India 2.0: Free visas for 5 lakh in new tourism policy

PARVEZ SULTAN @NewDelhi

AS the Covid pandemic situation is under control in the country, Union tourism ministry has initiated several measures to boost the sector and facilitate stakeholders to overcome losses caused by lockdown restrictions.

Revised national tourism policy, loans to tour operators or guides, new data-driven 'Incredible India 2.0' campaign, free tourist visa to first five lakh applicants after opening of international borders, appointment of tourism officers in 20 Indian missions abroad and extension of e-visa to 169 countries are among various initiatives.

Under the new national tourism policy, the government is making provisions to ensure adequate investments in the sector, employment generation and community participation in tourism development with focus on development of tourism in a sustainable and responsible manner.

The draft of the policy is ready and may be released soon. The policy also envisages setting up of an inter-ministerial coordination committee, a policy implementation unit and also a task force for better implementations.

'Incredible India 2.0' campaign focuses on niche tourism products including yoga, wellness, luxury, cuisine, and wildlife among others.

"The Central and state governments have taken several measures to boost tourism and also encouraged investments in the tourism sector. Initiations include a national tourism policy that we wish to unveil after close consultations with the states and all stakeholders, consultation to provide industry status to various tourism projects, unsecured loans to tour operators and tourist guides who have been affected by the Covid pandemic," said Union tourism minister G Kishan Reddy on Thursday.

Calcutta HC sets aside CAT's 'mala fide' order

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

IN a sharply critical order dealing a blow to the Central Administrative Tribunal's (CAT) decision to transfer the hearing of former chief secretary Alapan Bandyopadhyay's case of alleged misconduct to Delhi, the Calcutta High Court on Friday said the "entire modus operandi" adopted by the Union of India "reeks of mala fides".

Setting aside the CAT order, the high court directed that the hearing of the case would be conducted at CAT's Kolkata unit. "It is unfortunate that the Principal Bench of the CAT nurtured such efforts by passing the impugned transfer order, thereby paying obeisance to the diktat of the Union of India, which has been repeatedly held by the Supreme Court and various High Courts not to be a favoured litigant," the judgment said.

"Rather, the responsibility of meting out justice and serving the cause of justice is on a much higher pedestal for the Union of India than an ordinary individual litigant," the high court observed.

Bandyopadhyay moved the high court challenging the CAT's order of transferring his case of alleged misconduct. He alleged that he was being harassed on the charge that he had not attended a meeting of PM Narendra Modi at an air force base on May 28 to assess the damage caused by a cyclone.

The HC directed the Kolkata bench of CAT to decide the case on an expedite basis.

The court further observed that such an action even by a quasi-judicial authority 'leaves a bad taste in the mouth' and also pose a threat to the federal structure as envisioned by the makers of the Constitution.

Earlier, replying to a show cause notice slapped by the Centre asking why action should not be taken against him for not attending the meeting with the PM, Bandyopadhyay had said he was accompanying Mamata Banerjee and adhered to instructions of the CM under whom he worked.

'Rights bodies mum on violence against Hindus'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Dharwad

THE National Executive Council of the Rashtriya Sevak Sangh (RSS) has taken serious exception to United Nations-affiliated international human rights' bodies keeping mum on recent violence against minority Hindus in Bangladesh. Calling the attacks on Hindus "a conspiracy of radical Islamists", it has passed a resolution condemning such actions.

The apex decision-making body of the RSS is holding a three-day meeting which started on Thursday. The Sangh top brass, including chief Mohan Bhagwat, general secretary Dattatreya Hosabale and others, are participating. The meeting holds significance with upcoming state elections, especially in Uttar Pradesh, where the BJP's stakes are high.

The meeting is deliberating on various national issues, apart from expanding its activities in states where it has not yet reached. On Friday, it took up the matter of attacks on Hindus in neighbouring countries, Bangladesh in particular, and expressed concern over their safety. RSS joint secretary Arun Kumar told the media that "radical Islamic forces", operating across the world, were turning into a threat for democracy and human rights. Ironically, their atrocities on minorities had gone unnoticed by human rights bodies, and few bothered to condemn such acts.

The Sangh and other pro-Hindu organisations will appeal to the Indian government to take timely action to protect the interests of Hindus there as well as in other nations.

Lakhs of people in contact with the RSS during the Covid-19 pandemic, and collection of donations for Ram Mandir were now embracing the Sangh and appreciating its dedication towards nation-building and other social concerns.

In a bid to guide such new volunteers, the Sangh has planned programmes like enhancing greenery, focusing on the importance of family bonding, social harmony and other issues. Volunteers have reached almost all villages in the nation and every street in cities and urban areas. Sangh members have reached as many as 12.73 crore families, he added.

New Delhi: Defence Minister Rajnath Singh hailed PM Narendra Modi's leadership, saying he has been a "24-carat gold in terms of intention and integrity". Singh said that Modi has been spotless in his 20-year of public service with no corruption charges. Speaking on the concluding day of the three-day conclave to analyse Modi's 20 years in public service, organised by a BJP think tank, Singh said Modi is not merely a person, but an idea, a thought. Citing the abrogation of Article 370, Singh said Modi has been resolute in taking tough decisions even in the face of doubts. He credited the prime minister for showing trust in the private sector even while "it has been the norms that being sympathetic to the industries were seen having weak social commitments". While reflecting on the performance of Modi, the defence minister said "the way he faced those challenges should be taught in management schools as a case study on effective leadership and efficient governance". Non-MBBS teachers in medical colleges staring at an uncertain future

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @NewDelhi

A year after nearly 6,000 non-medical teachers in medical colleges knocked at the door of Union health ministry fearing job crisis as the National Medical Commission reduced the ceiling for their appointment, the government is yet to take a view on the matter.

While teachers of clinical subjects in medical colleges are always doctors with MBBS and MS/MD degrees, there are others in the non-clinical subjects with medical MSc or PhDs who are not doctors but their designations range from tutor to professor and even head of departments.

Last year, in the regulations released by the medical education regulator, the permissible intake of non-medical faculty had come down from 30% to 15% in anatomy and physiology, from 50% to 15% in biochemistry, and from 30% to 0% in microbiology and pharmacology.

Opposing this, the National MSc Medical Teachers Association (NMMTA), the body representing non medical teachers, had pleaded with the health ministry to get the decision changed in order to address faculty crisis in institution as well as to help the existing teachers.

The ministry, however, seems to have turned a blind eye to their petition. Association members pointed out that the Teachers Eligibility and Qualifications guidelines of the previous regulator, Medical Council of India, allowed higher intakes of non-medical teachers to teach pre and para clinical subjects.

Sridhar Rao, president of NMMTA, pointed out that while there has been an increase in MD seats in the non-clinical subjects, 40-50% of them remain vacant each year, which would imply that the faculty shortage is likely to continue.

"The shortages are more pronounced in the colleges located in rural, remote or hilly areas where the availability of medical teachers is generally poor," he added.

He also said that while rejecting a prior proposal to do away with the provision of appointing MSc/PhD teachers, the Board of Governors in supersession of the MCI in January, 2020 had cited the shortage of faculty in institutions.

Paper work delays release, Aryan Khan to step out from prison today

Exit prolonged by a night as a copy of bail order didn't reach jail before stipulated deadline

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

ARYAN Khan has to spend another night in jail as his bail papers missed the jail deadline on Friday, though the Bombay High Court passed the operative order on Aryan and two other accused in the drug case.

They will be released on Saturday once Arthur Road Jail, where the accused are lodged, gets the copy of the bail order.

Actor Juhi Chawla, Shah Rukh Khan's co-star in the early days of his film career, signed the ₹1 lakh bail bond for Aryan Khan. "The main thing is ab bachcha ghar aa jayega (Aryan will return home)," Juhi Chawla told reporters.

Anticipating his homecoming, Shah Rukh had left his Mumbai home around 3.40 pm for the prison where Aryan has already spent 22 days.

According to the jail manual, the physical copy of the bail order has to be deposited in the drop box of the jail before 5.35 pm. Jail superintendent Nitin Wachal said the law is equal for all. So, the accused will be released on Saturday.

While granting bail to Aryan along with Arbaz Merchant and Mummum Dhamecha, Justice NW Sambre is said to have laid down 14 conditions. These included a bail bond surety, an undertaking that the accused will not indulge in a similar kind of offence and will not communicate with each other. Also, the accused will have to

Accused shall not try to establish communication with co-accused or any other person involved directly or indirectly in similar activities or make any call to any person indulging in similar activities — HC order surrender their passport before the special court.

The other conditions are: the accused will not take any actions that could be prejudicial to the proceeding before the special court, the accused will not make any attempt to influence witnesses nor will tamper with the evidence.

The accused will not speak with the media after their release and if they want to go out of Mumbai, they will have to seek permission from the NCB investigating officer and provide their whereabouts.

The court said every Friday, the accused will have to mark their presence at the Mumbai NCB office between 11 and 2 pm. It asked the accused not to skip the court date unless there is a reasonable cause. The accused will have to join the probe as and when called.

In case the accused violate these conditions, the NCB can approach the special court and enforce cancellation of bail.

Aslam Merchant, father of Arbaz Merchant, said that justice should be given as soon as possible.

Aryan's 23-year-old's younger sister Suhana Khan posted a collage of pictures with a simple message: "I Love You."

BJP trying to shift Bollywood to Noida: Malik

MUMBAI: NCP minister Nwab Malik alleged that the BJP has a larger conspiracy to defame Bollywood and Mumbai and later move it to Noida where the Uttar Pradesh chief minister has proposed to settle the film industry.

Malik claimed that the BJP is using the central agencies like the NCB and its zonal director Sameer Wankhede to defame and destroy the industry by levelling false charges against Bollywood personalities and harassment and forcing them to move out of Mumbai.

"Bollywood is Mini India where the people from all parts of the country and the world happily stay and work. Mumbai has given fame to many hard-working and smart people irrespective of their religion, region and caste. BJP could not digest the glory and success of Mumbai. Therefore, it is constantly attacking the city and its people," he said, adding that the BJP would not succeed in its malafide intention.

Malik got a vote of thanks from actor-filmmaker Pooja Bhatt who thanked him for "taking a stand against the engineered campaign of hate towards the Hindi film industry." ENS

Paes, Nafisa Ali add sheen to Trinamool's march in Goa

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

TENNIS legend Leander Paes and actor-activist Nafisa Ali joined the Trinamool Congress in the presence of TMC supremo Mamata Banerjee and senior party leader Derek O'Brien in Goa on Friday.

Though Paes was born in Kolkata and spent some of his college years in the city, his father Vece Paes is a Goan. The Kolkata-born Nafisa Ali, meanwhile, has been residing in Goa for the past few years. Both joined TMC on Friday.

Mamata, who welcomed Paes to her party, compared him to her younger brother. "I am very happy to announce that Leander Paes (is joining us). He is just like my younger brother. I have known him since I was sports minister of India."

Paes said he was taking the plunge with the thought of doing something. "I was born in Bengal, but at the end of the day, I am a patriotic Indian. ...

For me it is about making India proud. Now living in Goa, I would like to make a difference to my roots," he added. "For me, it is about democracy. It is not about colour, religion, or culture or caste. For me, India is the largest and fastest growing democratic country in the world and I would like to be a part of it and make a difference."

Nafisa said she joined the Trinamool to help it take on the BJP and that the TMC was best-placed to do that. "The only leader today who can take on Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Amit Shah's brand of politics is Mamata Banerjee... The BJP needs to be addressed in all sincerity. Mamata has proved that she alone can become the tigress that can take on the likes of Modi," she said.

Incidentally, Nafisa had unsuccessfully contested the 2004 Lok Sabha elections from South Kolkata against Mamata.

The TMC supremo is in Goa on a three-day trip for boosting her party's profile ahead of the next year's Assembly polls.

Tripura HC steps in on violence

THE Tripura High Court on Friday directed the state's BJP government to file affidavits, on or before November 10 regarding the preventive measures that it took or plans for "scuttling the design of stoking communal passion or to perpetrate in the violence".

The court issued the order after hearing a PIL filed suo moto in connection with the October 26 violence during a rally organised by the VHP against the vandalism of Durga Puja *pandal*s and temples in Bangladesh. It directed the government to file an affidavit stating the stages at which the probe was going on and if any accused was apprehended.

The Advocate General said it was observed that many pictures, videos were circulated on the social media and that they were not pertaining to the incident. "These videos and pictures have potential to disturb the communal harmony."

The court then asked the government to initiate action against all such platforms for ensuring that such false content do not get published and even if they do so, they were removed at the earliest. "This court calls upon social media platforms to act responsibly. Media has every right, as a part of their activities to publish the truth. It should not be allowed to be used to spread untruth and spread communal passion," the division bench said.

Forgive & release our sons: Families of 3 Kashmiri students appeal to govt

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE families of three Kashmiri youth arrested in Agra for allegedly celebrating Pakistan's win over India in a T20 cricket match have appealed to the UP government to forgive and release the trio.

Showkat Ahmed Ganai, Arshad Yusuf and Inayat Altaf, the arrested trio, are students of Raja Balwant Singh College in Agra and study in the college under the PM Special Scholarship Scheme.

Mohammad Shaban Ganai said his son Showkat was in final year of his B.Tech course. "He was arrested after the India-Pakistan match and lodged at the Agra central jail. We don't know what has happened. If our sons have committed anything wrong, we apologise to authorities on their behalf. We urge the government to release them so that their career is not ruined," he said.

Showkat's mother also requested for her son's release. "I plead to authorities with folded hands that Showkat and the two other arrested students be released. I apologise to the government on their behalf."

While Showkat is from Bandipora district, Yusuf and Altaf are from Budgam district.

The widowed mother of Yusuf said the family was very poor. "He is our last hope of livelihood. We apologise to authorities on his behalf and urge them to release him," the distraught mother said, adding that she doesn't have resource to reach Agra for meeting her son. "We appeal the government to intervene on humanitarian grounds and release Yusuf and the two students."

Former J&K Chief Minister Omar Abdullah also came out in support of the three students. "The college authorities have given these students a clean chit & confirmed they didn't shout any slogans. Rather than taking the college assurance at face value, the UP police is victimising these poor kids," he tweeted.

The People Conference said punitive actions and harsh measures would further alienate young Kashmiris and would neither help reduce the 'dilemma' nor create an environment of trust and friendship.

Snow-hit apple growers seek loan waiver, adequate redress to tide over losses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Srinagar

HIT by the last week's unseasonal snowfall in Kashmir, apple growers have sought waiver of Kisan Credit Card loans and adequate relief from the government saying that their orchards were badly damaged.

The snowfall was intense in upper reaches of south Kashmir due to which the orchards in Shopian and Kulgam belts suffered heavy damages.

Mohammad Ashraf, president of Fruit Mandi-Shopian, told this newspaper that the apple orchards in the upper belt of Shopian and Kulgam were worst hit by the snowfall.

He said 25-30 per cent apple yield in Shopian and Kulgam got damaged due to the snowfall. "However, what concerns us more is the damage to apple trees. About 50-60 per cent apple trees in Shopian and Kulgam upper reaches have been damaged and many of the trees have been totally uprooted."

Ashraf urged the government to assess the damages for suitably compensating the growers. He said the government should waive off KCC loans of ₹3 lakh and also compensate the losses.

Kashmir Fruit Growers and Traders' Union president Basheer Ahmad Basheer said in 2019, the government gave ₹2,000-₹4,000 as compensation to apple growers. "The amount is a joke. It takes 10-15 years for apple tree to grow."

Basheer also urged the administration to introduce crop insurance so that growers can be compensated in cases of losses due to weather vagaries.

Anti-drone tech to counter UAV attacks

The Chandigarh administration is mulling over acquiring anti-drone technology to counter possible drone attacks. A meeting to discuss development on these lines took place between the Secretary, DRDO and senior officials of Chandigarh administration and police. The methods to counter threats from drones were discussed besides setting up of a cyber crime centre. The administration has recently banned the flying of drones in the city. The DRDO's anti-drone system helps in intercepting, detecting and destroying drones. The system uses a laser-based kill mechanism to detect and destroy drones in the air.

New street-vending zones to rehabilitate sellers

The Chandigarh administration has directed the city municipal corporation to review the vending zones in the capital city. There are a total of 46 street earmarked as vending zones in the city and the urban planning department had recently allowed the setting up of 15 more to resettle 1,500 odd street vendors in the city. As no vending zones are allowed in Sector 17, all other sites in the city would be explored for the resettlement in order to enhance the income of street vendors. In a few instances, the vendors even refused to move to the new zones as they are of the view that there was little or no potential of income generation in these zones. Besides, 2,000 street vendors have not taken possession of the vending spaces allotted to them.

Chandigarh Horse Show gets under way

Some 100 horses from different parts of the country are taking part in the three-day Chandigarh Horse Show being held from October 29 to 31 at the Ranch of Equestrian Club in New Chandigarh. The teams of Chandigarh Police, Haryana Police, Punjab Armed Police, Navy, Gurgaon Horse Club, Budha Dal Public School, Patiala, and Verdinand Horse Academy are participating. The main objective of the show is to promote the equestrian sport among Indians. There will be 21 events including show jumping and tent pegging being held as per the guidelines of the Equestrian Federation of India (EFI).

Second dose overdue for 75,526 people

A total of 75,526 people in the city who took the first shot of Covid vaccine have not got themselves jabbed with the second dose even after the expiry of the prescribed interval between the two doses, said Chandigarh administration. Each person is being separately contacted on the given mobile number and a drive has been undertaken to administer the second dose in all overdue cases. It was also stated that those who have got their first dose from Chandigarh and then went to other places may get their second dose anywhere in India and should not wait for their return to the city.

IRCTC not to share fee; stock falls

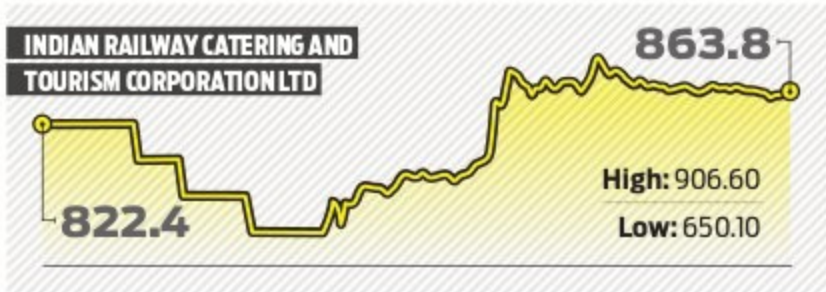

Stock plunges 29% ahead of the railway ministry's fresh move to withdraw its decision

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

MASSIVE slump in IRCTC stock value on Friday morning forced the Ministry of Railways to scrap its decision of sharing half of the revenue earned from convenience fee collected by the Indian Railways Catering and Tourism Corporation (IRCTC) in less than 24 hours.

IRCTC stock fell as much as 29% to hit an intraday low of ₹650.10 on the BSE on Friday morning after the publicly listed company on Thursday evening had informed exchanges that it would share all the convenience fee revenue it earns in the ratio of 50:50 from November 1.

"In compliance with the Regulation 30 of Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulation s, 2015, it is being informed that Ministry of Railways has conveyed withdrawal of instructions issued vide its letter dated 27th October 2021," stated IRCTC in a regulatory filing on Friday. Post this withdrawal, shares of IRCTC recovered quickly, over 25% from day's lowest point, but closed the session with significant loss at ₹845.65 a piece, down 7.45% from previous day closing.

Many analysts had called the move to share IRCTC's convenience fee a big negative for the company and its shareholders. Santosh Meena, Head of Research, Swastika Investment, on Friday morning said that this would lead to an accident in the share of IRCTC but also pull the chain of momentum in the other PSU stocks. "The sentiments were improving for PSU stocks after a positive attitude by the government but this news may hurt the sentiment badly," added Meena. Another analyst said the timing of this development will hamper government's effort in its privatisation process.

In an earnings call for April-June 2021 quarter, IRCTC chairman and MD Rajni Hasija had said that the company had earned about ₹149 crore from internet ticketing during the quarter by booking around 6.37 crore tickets. Convenience fees accounted for about 69% of these revenues.

Meanwhile, bears appear to have taken complete control of India's equity markets at the moment. The benchmark indices — Sensex and Nifty50 — fell for the third day in a row on Friday. The Sensex ended the Friday session 678 points lower at 59,307 and Nifty 50 index declined 186 points to close at 17,672.

Nod to 8.5% interest rate on EPF deposits for 2020-21

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE finance ministry on Friday approved an 8.5% rate of interest on employees' provident fund for 2020-21.

A source from the labour ministry confirmed TNIE that the rate of interest on employees' provident fund (EPF) for the 2020-21 fiscal has been ratified by the finance ministry and would be credited into the accounts of EPFO subscribers.

The move, a few days ahead of Diwali, comes as good news for over 5 crore subscribers of the Employees Provident Fund

Organisation (EPFO).

After the Covid-19 outbreak, the EPFO in March last year had lowered the interest rate on provident fund deposits to 8.5% for 2019-20, from 8.65% in 2018-19. The EPF interest rate provided for 2019-20 was the lowest since 2012-13.

The 8.5% of interest on EPF for the last financial year was decided by the EPFO's apex decision making body Central Board of Trustees (CBT) headed by the labour minister. The labour ministry has to notify the interest rate for the year before EPFO starts crediting it into the beneficiary accounts.

EPFO subscribers were provided 8.8% interest rate in 2015-16, 8.65% in 2016-17 and 8.55% in 2017-18.

The retirement fund body added around 14.81 lakh net subscribers in August, a 12.61% increase in the net subscribers addition, as compared to the previous month of July 2021. Of the total 14.81 lakh net subscribers, around 9.19 lakh members have come under the ambit for the first time, according to the provisional payroll data released by the labour ministry.

Sharp increase in customs duties (129.64%), followed by corporate tax (105.14%) and 0.08% year-on-year growth in state's share in central taxes were mainly responsible for it, said Devendra Pant, India Ratings and Research.

The ministry said the net debt capital receipts consists of recovery of loans ₹9,003 crore

The government's total expenditure during the period stood at 46.7% of the Budget estimates against 48.6% last year. Of the total expenditure, the government said the expenditure incurred by government at ₹16,26,017 crore.

BPCL Q2 NET PROFIT JUMPS 24% AS INTERNATIONAL OIL PRICES SOAR

New Delhi: Bharat Petroleum Corp Ltd (BPCL) on Friday reported a 24% rise in its September quarter net profit as international oil prices soared to a multi-year high.

Net profit of ₹3,200.9 crore in July-September was 23.6% higher than ₹2,589.5 crore a year back, the company said in a statement.

Revenue rose 53.7% to ₹1.02 lakh crore after global oil prices rose to a multi-year high.

The company did not give reasons for the rise in profits but industry sources said refiners made higher margins as they bought crude oil at a price but by the time they could ship and process it, benchmark fuel rates had gone up.

Since retail rates are benchmarked at prevailing international prices, higher margins are booked.

BPCL said it earned $5.11 on turning every barrel of crude oil into fuel during April-September as compared to $3.19 a barrel gross refining margins (GRMs) in the same period a year back.

Commenting on financial performance, V R K Gupta, Chief Financial Officer said, "With normalisation of business and fuel demand rising, we are witnessing robust growth in overall petroleum products sales."

"As international crude prices surge, we have seen good growth in gross refining margins," he said.

BALM IN TIMES OF CRISIS

Despite losing to Pakistan in a thriller, Afghanistan's attacking brand of cricket lifts country during tough days

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

THE story has been told several times over but it's worth repeating. On the night of December 24, 1979, Afghanistan's world crumbled around them. As the Soviets placed their tanks in Afghanistan's direction with the last vestiges of the Cold War underway, the citizens of their country were rendered helpless. As the fighting intensified, many of the locals fled to neighbouring Pakistan or Iran.

Many who reached Pakistan were put up in the Kacha Garhi refugee camp in Peshawar. It was there they learned the basics of cricket. When the fighting stopped, some of those who fell in love with the game returned to Afghanistan. One of those was Mohammad Nabi. On Friday night inside Dubai's Ring of Fire, Nabi captained the country of his birth against the country that helped him form an understanding about the sport.

As a country, Afghanistan's last few months has been terrible to say the least. The US withdrew its troops, the Taliban took back power and — depending on which reports you read — a lot of the other things like girls not going back to schools, women not playing sport as well as random killings also happened. As soon as they wrested back power, it was not a surprise that questions were asked about the men's cricket team's legitimacy to compete — a minor question in the wider picture but still a question — at the World Cup in the United Arab Emirates.

Asif Ali (right) smoked four sixes in the 19th over to take Pakistan to their third successive win in the ongoing T20 World Cup in Dubai on Friday | AFP

The ICC had made an exception then to make them a Full Nation when they didn't have a women's team. With a few months to go for the World Cup, they weren't going to pull the plug on cricket's wildest, craziest feel-good story, not yet anyway. But the pressure these 15 men would face in the UAE was immense. While playing in The Hundred, a symbolic Rashid Khan gesture travelled far and wide. He had painted the Afghanistan flag on his cheeks (the Taliban have their own version). On his Twitter account, he literally appealed for peace. "Kabul is bleeding again," he posted on August 26. "STOP KILLING AFGHAN PLEASE".

In Afghanistan's warm-up game against West Indies before the tournament, two things happened. Afghanistan not only won by 56 runs but they also hit a bigger number of sixes when compared to the West Indies (6 vs 2). Sure, you can argue warm-up games lack context and one cannot make any grand conclusions but this felt significant because Afghanistan have been the closest side to Windies when it came to prioritising boundaries: stats back this up.

Even otherwise, their front-loaded batting line-up is the most explosive among all Full Member Nations in the planet in this format (this includes England and West Indies). Hazratullah Zazai strikes at 154.65, Mohammad Shahzad strikes at 134.94, Rahmanullah Gurbaz at 141.78 and Najibullah Zadran's comparative number is 143.64 (yes, some of those numbers have come up against Associates). It isn't see ball, hit ball' but it's based on an ultra modern T20 approach; six-hitting trumps all, target the short boundaries and don't mind eating dot balls if the trade-off is extra boundaries.

When it comes off — as it did against Scotland — it can be pretty spectacular. They chewed up 43 dots but hit 13 4s and 11 6s. On days like Friday, it can backfire. Even then, they deserve credit for sticking to what they knew best. 62 dots, 20 boundaries, 61.2 per cent of runs coming in boundaries. It partially worked: they scored more runs (90) in boundaries against this Pakistan bowling line-up than both India (68) and New Zealand (66).

After losing to Pakistan, the challenge for them between now and the end of the tournament is simple. If they can take down one of the bigger sides (New Zealand or India) coupled with beating Namibia, it could come down to NRR.

One thing, though, is simple. Unlike in previous ICC events, they aren't here to make up the numbers. They don't just believe, they genuinely have the skillsets in this format to challenge the best. However, there is also a bigger factor at play and you cannot ignore it. It was best summed up by Khan after their match against Scotland. "I hope this win have given you something to smile and celebrate," he tweeted. For a country that has neither smiled nor celebrated in months, their cricket team is trying to be a proxy for both. Can they keep doing that?

Brief scores: Afghanistan 147/6 in 20 ovs (Nabi 35 n.o., Nabi 35 n.o.) lost to Pakistan 148/5 in 19 ovs (Babar 51, Asif 25 n.o.).

IOA election hots up, prez seeks SGM on Dec 19

"TS no secret that there are differences between the India Olympic Association (IOA) president and the secretary general. This year, as the elections are approaching, it seems things are getting messier. On Thursday, there were letters from the president and the secretary. The president, Narinder Batra, was seeking approval of the executive council to hold the general body meeting of the IOA on December 19 with elections as the agenda. The location apparently is Bengaluru as of now.

On the other hand, the letter from secretary general, Rajeev Mehta, said that there will be an executive council meeting at Hyatt Regency in New Delhi on November 1. This apparently is the executive council meeting that was cancelled on October 9. Some members found it baffling that the secretary general called for a meeting in such a short notice. The president on Friday termed it illegal as it was sent without his permission and was in violation of the IOA constitution as it was not approved by him. According to an internal communication, majority of the executive council members requested for a special general body meeting.

The appointment of Return- ing Officer will be crucial. Either of the factions would try and first get their choice as the RO is the one who would finalise those eligible to vote and those who can't. It must be noted that in the last couple of years, there have been quite a few elections of State Olympic Associations and National Sports Federations where two factions dominated. This also led to a rivalry and factions within the NSFs and state units. Apparently, one of the agenda for the secretary's executive council meeting is to induct new members in IOA.

All eyes are on the post of secretary general and the treasurer whose eight-year term is getting over this year in December. However, as things stand, the elections are going to be intriguing, especially after reports indicated that Mehta will challenge Batra for the top post.

Though Batra-led panel is yet to be finalised, there are strong candidates that are doing the rounds. According to insiders, only the president's name has been finalised.

There are apprehensions that the elections might end up in the court room. For the last two years, there have been no executive council meeting and because of the pandemic last year, the IOA general body meeting, too, was not held. It is understood that the president had issued a notice on the SGM with a single point agenda and if approved by majority of the executive council members, the process of issuing of notice would begin in early November. However, with so much acrimony between the two factions, it needs to be seen where the battle is headed to.

Xavi not the only option: Laporta

AFP @ Madrid

BARCELONA president Joan Laporta said on Friday he has received glowing reports about Xavi Hernandez's credentials as coach and admitted he would like to have him as Barca coach during his presidency.

But Laporta refused to confirm Xavi will succeed Ronald Koeman, who was sacked on Wednesday night, and maintained Barca have "other options". Laporta's enthusiastic assessment of Barca's legendary former midfielder will be taken as a strong indication that he is the preferred replacement for Koeman.

After a glittering career at Camp Nou, Xavi left in 2015 to play for Al Sadd in Qatar before becoming coach of the team two years ago. "I said it when he went to Qatar, that Xavi would end up being the coach of Barca, in fact I would like him to be coach of Barca during my presidency — what I don't know is when," said Laporta on Friday.

"It is true the reports we have about him are very good. I have not followed Al Sadd, but we have talked about Barca games on the phone. We have watched games together almost. "Let me say no more. For all the talk of Xavi there are also other options. Barca have other options." Barcelona's B team coach Sergi Barjuan has been put in temporary charge and Laporta said the expectation is he will be in the dugout for the games against Alaves in La Liga on Saturday and Dynamo Kiev in the Champions League on Tuesday.

SRI LANKA VS SOUTH AFRICA

Irrespective of what happens during the match, cameras will be trained on the South African squad as well as when they take the knee. Will Quinton de Kock be part of it? In a heartfelt statement on Thursday, he would take the knee. Considering he's an important player for them, will he come straight back in?

HASARANGA VS TOP-ORDER

Australia had all but an easy time against the Sri Lankan bowling attack but one player who still performed was Wanindu Hasaranga. AUSTRALIA VS ENGLAND

IS HE BACK?

David Warner against Sri Lanka was the sort of T20 throwback we had all been used to for closed to a decade. Hustling hard, hitting boundaries... always busy. That's not been a familiar sight over the last 6-8 months. So has he recaptured his form? If he has, England's strategy of again starting with Moeen Ali may look a bit foolish.

MILLS AT THE DEATH

In a tournament where Shaheen Shah Afridi has been the standout pacer, England's Tymal Mills has quietly been No 2. In fact, he has better numbers than the Pakistan pacer at this point. Eight overs, five wickets, three boundaries, 23 dots and just 44 runs. He has more than made up for Mark Wood's absence with his pace and variations.

POWER-PUFF GIRL

Arundhati targets bigger returns after national gold

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

NOT long ago, she'd get into trouble for fighting with boys in her school. It was noticeable Arundhati Choudhary possessed boundless energy, but she lacked a channel to utilise that energy. That's when, after a chat with her father, Arundhati picked up boxing in 2016, a sport that has given her a sense of purpose. Over the years, she has had a steady rise and the youth world champion is one of the talents to keep a close eye on.

In her most recent outing, the 19-year-old demonstrated that she means business. She beat the cream of boxers in the country to take the 70kg national crown. That was incidentally her first appearance in the senior nationals. From the outset, she had a clear goal in mind. The boxer, who believes her powerful punch is the main tool in her arsenal, just wanted to maintain her track record. "I have always been No 1 at the junior level. So I wanted to maintain that. Somebody had told me it's easy to become a champion, but to maintain that status is very difficult. I also knew there are big competitions coming up with the World Championships. So I was intent on giving my best," Arundhati, a vegetarian, said.

Hailing from Kota, Rajasthan, where the boxing culture is not strong, her journey hasn't been straightforward. Under the guidance of a wushu/taekwondo coach who talked the sport by watching YouTube clips, she started to express herself proficiently.

"She'd engage in fights with boys in school. I would always get complaints. So I used to wonder, 'what is the remedy for this?' But she was sharp in her studies. In Kota, engineering and medical studies are a big trend. So I felt that she could pursue studies and could clear IIT. I shared the idea with her but she said she's not interested," Suresh, her father, said.

It's no surprise, her coach Ashok Gautam has been a big pillar in her career so far. "The coach has played a big role in my life. He became a student of the sport, watching YouTube videos and learning from other sources. He taught himself and passed on what he has learnt to me," Arundhati, who's supported by Olympic Gold Quest, said.

She had dabbled in basketball, having played the same at the state level. But Suresh was not keen on the idea of her pursuing a team sport like basketball. "I didn't want her to get involved in a team sport like basketball and it involves a lot of variables (especially in terms of selection). I asked her to play basketball for her amusement. But she was downcast after hearing that. So I told her to focus on an individual sport like badminton or tennis, where everything would be dependent solely on performance. That's when she said boxing."

One bout that lent credence to that life-changing decision was when she pummeled a more-acclaimed rival from Haryana during her first outing at the national level (junior). "There was this belief Haryana boxers are invincible. She was so good that she beat one Haryana boxer via RSC. There was a big commotion then. People couldn't believe a girl from Rajasthan beat someone from Haryana," Suresh recalled.

Arundhati, who likes to ride her bullet during free time, hasn't looked back since, going on to medal at the international level in various meets. The fact that she was voted the 'Best Asian Junior Women Boxer in 2018' meant she was on the right path. And the national title is just the beginning.

All the national winners have secured the World Championships berth but Arundhati could miss the flight. There were reports that Lovlina Borgohain, after a medal-winning performance during the Olympics, will be given a direct pass this time.

Even if Arundhati may miss out, her time will surely come soon.

SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS

Srihari & Sajan rewrite records as Karnataka take overall title

AGENCIES @ Bengaluru

HOSTS Karnataka were crowned the overall champions at the senior national aquatic championships for the 27th time as they ended their dominant campaign with 17 golds here on Friday.

Karnataka concluded the meet with 36 medals, including 17 golds, 10 silver and nine bronze. Maharashtra finished second with a total of 21 medals, while Delhi finished third with nine medals.

The final day of the championships saw some thrilling races and new national records being created. In the 200m freestyle, which was the most anticipated race of the day, Srihari Nataraj clinched the gold with a national record of 1:49.78 seconds.

He eclipsed Sajan Prakash's record of 1:50.35s, a mark that was clocked in 2018.

Delhi's Kushagra Rawat, who has three gold medals with three national records to his name in this meet, finished second with a time of 1:52.24 seconds and Tanish George Mathew of Karnataka finished third with a time of 1:52.34 seconds.

"This was one race I was looking forward to because Kushagra was swimming too and he has been in good form," stated

Srihari Nataraj clinched gold in the 200m freestyle, clocking a national record

Nataraj, who also won gold in the 200m backstroke. "I've worked quite hard for my freestyle events more than backstroke actually and it feels good to have won the race and also bettered the national record," he added.

In the 100m butterfly, two-time Olympian Prakash, representing Kerala Police, sank in his own record of 53.46 seconds to win gold.

He clocked 53.24 seconds to rewrite the record, while Mihir Ambre from Maharashtra finished second with a timing of 54.93 seconds and Adithya D of TNSA finished third, clocking 55.72 seconds.

Junior swimmers, Shohan Ganguly and Ridhima Veerendrakumar continued to impress as they won gold in their respective events.

Ganguly won the 400m medley with a timing of 4:30.52 seconds, missing Rehan Poncha's 12-year-old record by whisker. Poncha's record stands at 4:30.13 seconds. Siva S finished second with a timing of 4:36.38 seconds.

In the 200m backstroke, 17-year-old Ridhima clinched the gold beating Olympian Maana Patel who was pushed to the fourth place in this event. Ridhima clocked 2:21.58 seconds to finish ahead of Soubriti Mondal of Bengal, who timed 2:24.85 seconds and Shrungi Rajesh Bandekar of Goa, who clocked 2:28.27 seconds.

Maana missed a podium finish as she touched behind Bandekar with a timing of 2:28.96 seconds.

$20 bn stumbling block for vax goal

IMF urges G-20 leaders to fund the global drive to get 40% of world population by year-end

COVID

ROME: Health and finance officials who gathered ahead of the Group of 20 summit in Rome warned of a two-track pandemic recovery, with Covid-19 vaccine and spending gaps slowing poorer countries from bouncing back.

Kristalina Georgieva, head of the International Monetary Fund, said Friday that efforts to speed vaccinations was short $20 billion needed to pursue a goal of 40% of the world vaccinated by year's end and 70% by the middle of next year.

French Finance Minister Bruno Le Maire said the increasing divergence between developing and developed countries would be "a major strategic risk for the rest of the world." The ministers decided to create a G-20 joint task force to ensure efforts to combat the pandemic and prevent future ones are adequately funded.

The G-20 has supported the UN-backed COVAX initiative, which has failed to alleviate dire shortages in poor countries. Summit negotiators have been focusing on efforts to strengthen local health resources, vaccine supply chains and vaccine production in less prosperous countries.

U.N. Secretary-General Antonio Guterres has warned that the upcoming climate summit in Glasgow may not provide the boost for global efforts to fight climate change that many are hoping for.

Speaking to reporters ahead of a G-20 summit in Rome, Guterres said "there is a serious risk that Glasgow will not deliver." He said that despite updated climate targets by many countries, "we are still careening towards climate catastrophe." Guterres said there are "serious questions" about some of those pledges and noted that collectively they won't be enough to keep the global temperature rise below 2 degrees Celsius, the target set in U.N. talks on fighting climate change.

He said G-20 leaders in Rome, whose countries are responsible for most of the world's global greenhouse gas emissions, have an opportunity to "put things on track" for the Glasgow talks, which will begin as the Rome summit ends.

South Korean President Moon Jae-in on Friday made a fresh attempt to have Pope Francis visit North Korea, at a meeting at the Vatican where the two leaders discussed peace efforts, Yonhap said. Moon gave Francis one of 136 crosses created with barbed wire from a fence in the demilitarised zone (DMZ), the division across the peninsula for the past 68 years.

US President Joe Biden said Pope Francis called him a "good Catholic" as they met Friday at the Vatican at the start of a European trip aimed at reasserting US international credentials.

The meeting at the Vatican lasted more than an hour -- longer than Biden's two predecessors were given -- and came as Biden arrived in Europe ahead of a weekend G20 summit in Rome and UN climate talks in Glasgow.

DRAGON SCARE IN THE EAST

Addressing the India-ASEAN Summit virtually, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday said the grouping's special role is embedded in India's Act East Policy. He announced 2022 would be celebrated as the ASEAN-India Friendship Year to mark 30 years of their partnership. Here's a low down on India's east vision

ASEAN MATTER

FULL: ASSOCIATION OF SOUTHEAST ASIAN NATIONS

Secretariat: Jakarta, Indonesia

Criticism: Non-interference has left member countries fending for themselves in the face of an aggressive and assertive China

Despite the generous economic growth, the grouping is yet to sort out border conflicts owing to policies

REGIONAL SECURITY CHALLENGES

The group's most glaring issue has been finding a joint response to the rise of China. Brunei, Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines and Vietnam claim features in waters contested with China. For those countries, China's moves to reclaim land and build artificial islands are seen as violations of their national sovereignty. In response, some have invested in modernising their militaries. A few, such as Cambodia, even support China's claims. Other major partners, including Japan and India, have their own issues with Beijing, both economic and strategic

Prime Minister Narendra Modi launches the Act East policy

Trust on intensifying economic, strategic and diplomatic relations with countries that share common concerns with India on China's growing economic and military strength and its implications for the evolving regional order

WHY LOOK EAST

The Gulf War of 1990-91 severely affected India owing to an unprecedented rise in oil prices. The fall of the Soviet bloc on which the Indian economy heavily depended accentuated the economic pain

South Asia was not exactly a suitable neighbourhood as it was rife with political bickering, lack of trust and economic backwardness.

Hence, India set sights on Southeast and East Asia for greener pastures

ECONOMIC PROGRESS

Free trade agreements with countries outside of the grouping

WHY ACT EAST IS AN IMPROVEMENT OVER LOOK EAST POLICY

- India joined the ASEAN in 1992 as a sectoral partner and is a full-fledged member of its fora like ASEAN Regional Forum, the East Asian Summit (EAS) and the ASEAN Defence Ministers Meeting Plus since 1994
- India's Act East Policy is closely connected with its long-term vision of developing its Northeastern region (NER), which is considered as a gateway to Southeast Asia
- It is in India's Northeast where India's Act East policy and Japan's Open and free Indo-Pacific strategy
- India is concerned about the strategic uncertainties in the region following the decline of US influence and the rapid rise of China
- As a country with established sea-borne trade traditions, India recognises the inherent rights of all countries to freedom of navigation, overflight and unimpeded commerce in open seas
- India believes no country should use force as a means of settling disputes
- India's Act East policy supports connectivity programmes for promoting regional cooperation and integration. Unlike the Look East Policy, the present Act East lays great emphasis on the connectivity programmes that link India's Northeast region with ASEAN countries

Europol busts international ransomware ring

TECH

THE HAGUE: International investigators said on Friday they had disrupted a network of cyber-criminals behind ransomware attacks on companies in dozens of countries.

The EU's police agency Europol said 12 suspects had been targeted in raids in Ukraine and Switzerland this week, following a two-year investigation. The network would steal into the IT systems of companies through phishing emails and other methods before locking documents and demanding a ransom for the decryption key. "These cyber actors are known for targeting large corporations, bringing their business to a standstill," Europol said, listing 1,800 victims across 71 countries.

The agency said the network

"represented a dangerous combination of aggressive disruption and high-stake targets".

More than $50,000 in cash was seized along with five luxury vehicles in raids on Tuesday. The French authorities began investigating the group in September 2019, with more than 50 investigators joining the inquiry from eight countries, including Germany and the United States.

How an influencer raised $7 mn to rescue terrified Afghans

SOCIAL MEDIA

UNITED STATES: When Instagram influencer Tommy Marcus read that Kabul had fallen to the Taliban he sprang into action, without knowing that like-minded US veterans were also desperate to do something.

"I was more horrified and disgusted and just wanted to help," recalls the 26-year-old New Yorker, who is known to his 800,000 followers as "Queenin Quarantino." With just a few clicks on his phone from his home in New Jersey, Marcus started what would become an extraordinary operation to evacuate hundreds.

In three days he raised $7.2

million and rallied to his cause retired soldiers and former diplomats, as well as experts in asylum law, humanitarian aid and airlifts from war zones.

It is a plotline worthy of a Hollywood movie: a combination of the power of social networks, rapid crowdfunding and the logistical efficiency of American veterans that led to the rescue of 565 Afghans.

AFP has spoken to several of the main actors of "Operation Flyaway," which was launched on August 17 and is ongoing, and reviewed contractual and budgetary documents related to chartered planes.

Messages from Afghan women, children, LGBTQ people, social workers, journalists and interpreters to organizers begging for help to flee the country have also been read.

Instagram influencer Tommy Marcus who raised funds for Afghan evacuations

Marcus, known on social media for humorous memes that target ex-president Donald Trump and tackle issues related to vaccinations and abortion, was stunned by the images of desperate Afghans hanging from a US plane taking off from Kabul airport. He was overwhelmed by photos and messages from Afghans pleading with him to act, including one from a woman who wrote: "For humanity and justice accept me as a refugee in a safe country."

Marcus posted a message to his followers saying he wanted to help but wasn't sure how, and within a few minutes "thousands and thousands" of responses poured in, he told AFP.

Among them was one from a longtime fan who claimed to be working with a group that recently got a few hundred people evacuated to France and was now out of money.

The influencer urged his followers to help him raise at least half a million dollars in 24 hours. Instead, $5 million poured in. Within three days, he had received more than $7 million, with 123,000 people donating an average of $59 each. "It was a crazy viral burst of money," said Marcus, who then needed to figure out what to do with it.

He turned to war-zone professionals for guidance. They spent $4.79 million on chartering several flights that helped rescue the 565 Afghans. The money was shared between several charter companies.

Scandal-plagued FB's Meta change

TECH

SAN FRANCISCO: Facebook changed its parent company name to "Meta" on Thursday as the tech giant tries to move past being a scandal-plagued social network to its virtual reality vision for the future.

Facebook, Instagram and WhatsApp, which are used by billions around the world, will keep their names under the rebranding critics have called an effort to distract from the platform's dysfunction. "We've learned a lot from struggling with social issues and living under closed platforms, and now it is time to take everything that we've learned and help build the next chapter," CEO Mark Zuckerberg said during an annual developers conference.

"I am proud to announce that starting today, our company is now Meta. Our mission remains the same, still about bringing people together, our apps and their brands, they're not changing," he added.

The company's critics pounced on the rebranding, with an activist group calling itself The Real Facebook Oversight Board saying the platform is harming democracy while spreading disinformation and hate. Reports from a consortium of US news outlets have used documents released by a whistleblower to produce a deluge of damning stories, including blaming Zuckerberg for his platform bending to state censors and how the site has stoked anger in the name of keeping users engaged.

Facebook has just announced plans to hire 10,000 people in the European Union to build the "metaverse," with Zuckerberg emerging as a leading promoter of the concept. The metaverse is, in fact, the stuff of science-fiction: the term was coined by Neal Stephenson in his 1992 novel "Snow Crash," in which people don virtual reality headsets to interact inside a game-like digital world. Facebook has been hit by major crises previously, but the current view behind the curtain of the insular company has fueled a frenzy of scathing reports and scrutiny from US regulators.

1 woman must on firms' board

LAW

Companies listed in Malaysia will be required to have at least one female director on their boards starting next year, the government said on Friday, a rare policy for an Asian country. About 250 companies, around a quarter of those listed on the Malaysian stock exchange, still don't have women on their boards, Finance Minister Tengku Zafrul Abdul Aziz said. The new policy was aimed at "recognising the role of women in the decision-making process and strengthening leadership as well effectiveness of (boards)," he told parliament, as he unveiled next year's budget. "The contribution of women in the economy has never been denied but needs to be strengthened." It will take effect in September for large companies.

Great red spot is quite deep

SPACE

Jupiter's Great Red Spot, a storm so big it could swallow Earth, extends surprisingly deep beneath the planet's cloud tops, scientists reported on Thursday. NASA's Juno spacecraft has discovered that the monster storm, though shrinking and raging on for centuries, has a depth of between 350 km and 500 km. When combined with its width of 16,000 km, the Great Red Spot resembles a fat pancake in new 3D images of the planet. The mission's lead scientist, Scott Bolton of Southwest Research Institute, said there might not be a hard cutoff at the bottom of the storm. It probably fades out gradually and keeps going down," Bolton said at a news conference. The research was published Thursday in the journal Science.

Israel aims for carbon neutrality

ENVIRONMENT

Israel said on Friday it was committed to achieving net zero carbon emissions by 2050, two days before the UN's COP26 climate conference opens in Glasgow. The Israeli government had in July announced a plan to reduce its carbon emissions by 85 percent by 2050, against a 2015 baseline. Carbon neutrality is a balance between emitting carbon and absorbing it from the atmosphere and the topic is high on the agenda of the upcoming climate meeting in the Scottish capital. Prime Minister Naftali Bennett and Energy Minister Karine Elharrar "have agreed on raising the threshold for reducing greenhouse gas emissions so that by 2050, Israel will reach zero emissions," said a statement released by the premier's office. "With the new goal, Israel is lining up alongside the developed countries that are already taking action to attain the goal of zero emissions, and is redoubling its commitment to... international agreements on the issue," Bennett said.

New China bar on firms transferring their data abroad

Business disruptions feared as Beijing adds a layer of approval, tightens control on industry

BEIJING

COMPANIES in China would need government's approval to transfer important data abroad under proposed rules announced on Friday that would tighten Beijing's control over information and might disrupt operations for international corporations.

The measure is needed to protect the Chinese public and "safeguard national security," the Cyberspace Administration of China said.

President Xi Jinping's government sees information about China's 1.4 billion people as a potential security risk in private hands.

It has issued a flurry of rules tightening control over how companies gather and handle information. A crackdown on data security launched in late 2020 fueled anxiety among investors, who have knocked more than $1.3 trillion off the total market value of e-commerce platform Alibaba, games and social media operator Tencent and other tech giants.

Companies that want to transfer important data abroad would have to report on how much and what type of information is involved and security measures, according to the CAC. Regulators would decide within a week whether to accept that or conduct their own review, which could last up to 60 days.

The rules would apply to transfers that involve 'sensitive personal information' of at least 10,000 people or any company that handles information on more than 1 million people.

They give no details of what is important or sensitive.

Rules imposed earlier prohibit companies from storing information about Chinese citizens abroad.

That prompted complaints that global companies are put at a disadvantage because they can't combine information from China with other countries, while Chinese competitors can collect all their data at their headquarters.

A separate law that takes effect on Monday establishes security standards, prohibits companies from disclosing information without customer permission and tells them to limit how much they collect.

Unlike data protection laws in Western countries, the Chinese rules say nothing about limiting government or ruling Communist Party access to personal information. AP

Win for India as UN panel backs Observer Status for Solar Alliance

UNITED NATIONS

AS world leaders gather for the climate change summit in Glasgow, a draft resolution introduced by India for granting the Observer Status to the International Solar Alliance has been adopted in a UN General Assembly committee.

The draft resolution was adopted in the General Assembly's Sixth Committee, that deals with legal issues, without a vote on Thursday.

The 76th session of the UN General Assembly will now have to formally adopt recommendation of the Sixth Committee. India's Deputy Permanent Representative, Ambassador R Ravindra said: "Ahead of COP-26 scheduled in Glasgow next week, today's action on the draft resolution to grant the Observer Status for the International Solar Alliance is not only symbolic, but a substantive one."

India's Permanent Mission to the UN said in a tweet that India walks the talk on climate action. "Important milestone crossed on eve of @COP26 at #GlasgowCOP26. UN Sixth Committee endorses International Solar Alliance@isolaralliance for Observer Status," it said on Twitter.

Ambassador Ravindra said that the adoption of the resolution will reflect the commitment and resolve of member states to the noble cause of renewable energy and "usher in a new era of green energy diplomacy".

"Today's decision will also enable ISA to provide targeted inputs to current and future UN processes based on grass-root level experiences from its country programmes, its research and public private cooperation activities and its global knowledge sharing activities," he said.

India's Permanent Representative to the UN, Ambassador T S Tirumurti had earlier this month introduced the draft resolution for granting the Observer Status for the International Solar Alliance on behalf of India and France and about 80 co-sponsors.

The co-sponsors include Algeria, Australia, Bangladesh, Cambodia, Canada, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Egypt, Fiji, Finland, Ireland, Italy, Japan, the Maldives, Mauritius, Myanmar, New Zealand, Oman, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, Saudi Arabia, Trinidad and Tobago, the UAE and the UK.

The UNGA may grant Permanent Observer Status to non-member states, international organisations and other entities. The General Assembly decided that "observer status would be confined to states and intergovernmental organisations whose activities cover matters of interest to the Assembly." PTI

US mulls compensation for families separated

San Diego: The US Justice Department is in talks to pay $4,50,000 to each child and parent who was separated under a Trump-era practice of splitting families at the border, a person familiar with discussions said. About 5,500 children were split from their parents under President Donald Trump's "zero tolerance" policy, under which parents were separated from their children to face prosecution for crossing the border illegally.

Washington will deepen ties with Taipei: Envoy

Taipei: The US wants to deepen its ties with Taiwan, the self-ruled island that has become a major point of conflict in the strained US-China relationship, and will work to counter Beijing's 'malign' influence, a US diplomat said on Friday. Sandra Oudkirk, the new director of the American Institute in Taiwan, the de facto embassy, reiterated that the US remains deeply committed to Taiwan and is actively working on new areas of cooperation.

Biden, Pope Francis discuss climate change, Covid in unusually long meeting

VATICAN CITY

SITTING face to face across a desk, US President Joe Biden and Pope Francis engaged in extended talks on climate change, poverty and the coronavirus pandemic on Friday as the world's two most prominent Roman Catholics ran overtime in highly personal discussions that also touched on the loss of president's adult son and jokes about aging well.

Video released by the Vatican showed several warm, relaxed moments between Francis and Biden as they repeatedly shook hands and smiled. Francis often sports a dour look, especially in official photos, but he seemed in good spirits on Friday. Their private meeting lasted about 75 minutes, according to the Vatican, more than double the normal length of an audience with the pontiff.

The pair sat across from one another at a desk in the papal library, accompanied by a translator. They then proceeded to an exchange of gifts and a broader meeting including the first lady and top officials. The lengthy session put Biden more than an hour behind schedule for his later meetings. "Biden thanked His Holiness for his advocacy for the world's poor and those suffering from hunger, conflict, and persecution," the White House said. "He lauded Pope Francis' leadership in fighting the climate crisis, as well as his advocacy to ensure the pandemic ends for everyone through vaccine sharing and an equitable global economic recovery."

After leaving the Vatican, Biden told journalists he had a "wonderful" meeting with the pope and that Francis prayed for him and blessed his rosary beads. Asked what prayer was about, Biden replied, "Peace".

Meanwhile, Pope Francis issued an urgent appeal on Friday to world leaders ahead of the UN climate conference to take "radical decisions" to protect the environment and prioritise the common good rather than nationalistic interests.

In the message, Francis urged political leaders not to waste the opportunity created by the upheaval of the Covid-19 pandemic to change course and chart a future based on a sense of shared responsibility for a common destiny. AP

Taliban sends diplomat to take charge of Pak embassy

ISLAMABAD

A Taliban envoy has been sent to neighbouring Pakistan to take charge of the Afghan embassy, two months after the hardline Islamist group seized power, officials said on Friday.

Sardar Ahmad Khan Shokaib was appointed as first secretary in Islamabad, while Taliban officials are also now in place at consulates in Peshawar, Karachi and Quetta.

The new Taliban rulers have yet to be formally recognised by any foreign government, including Pakistan, meaning Shokaib cannot assume the title of ambassador. "These diplomats will take care of the affairs in the embassy and in the three consulates," a Taliban source told journalists.

"They will formally take charge on Monday," a source close to the Peshawar consulate added.

The last ambassador of the Afghan embassy was withdrawn by the former US-backed government several months ago following the alleged kidnapping of his daughter in leafy Islamabad. AFP

Talks with Islamists inconclusive, Pak govt shifts focus to dispersing protesters

ISLAMABAD

THE talks with the supporters of a banned radical Islamist party in Pakistan have so far remained "inconclusive" and efforts were on to disperse the protesters, who are marching towards Islamabad and pressing the government to release their party chief and expel the French ambassador, peacefully, a senior minister said on Friday.

The rally by tens of thousands of members of the Tehreek-i-Labbaik Pakistan (TLP) started after the government announced that it cannot meet its demand for the expulsion of the French ambassador. The protesters have been marching on the GT Road and reportedly crossed Gujranwala city, approximately 220 kms from Islamabad, by overcoming barricades and police.

Life in the areas surrounding its route continues to remain disrupted as cellphone and internet services also remain suspended. Lahore's link to Rawalpindi and Islamabad has also been cut off from the GT Road.

ister Imran Khan and attended by relevant Federal Cabinet members, National Security Adviser, Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee, all three Services Chiefs, chiefs of ISI, Intelligence Bureau and Federal Investigation Agency, and senior civil and military officers.

He said that it was agreed in the meeting to keep peace in the country at all costs, adding that efforts were being made to disperse the protesters peacefully after holding talks with their leadership, including with the detained TLP chief Saad Rizvi.

"The talks have so far remained inconclusive, but there is a possibility of more talks today," he said, adding the government was trying to defuse the situation.

According to a statement by the PM Office, the NSC received a detailed briefing on the country's internal security situation and the ongoing agitation by the TLP.

"Taking serious note of the unprovoked violent attacks committed by TLP members, the Committee resolved not to tolerate any further breach of law by this proscribed group," according to the statement. PTI

MARKET RESEARCH ANALYST NOW A SPECIALTY JOB FOR H-1B

WASHINGTON

IN a major victory for employers, a US court has approved a settlement under which an American immigration agency has agreed to recognise market research analyst as a specialty occupation for the purposes of determining the applications of H-1B visas, most sought-after by Indian IT professionals.

The H-1B visa is a non-immigrant visa that allows US companies to employ foreign workers in specialty occupations that require theoretical or technical expertise. Technology companies depend on it to hire tens of thousands of employees each year from countries like India and China.

The settlement approved by the federal district court in the Northern District of California would now let companies request that the USCIS reopen and re-adjudicate their denied H-1B petitions.

Based on its prior interpretation of the Occupational Outlook Handbook, a Department of Labour's Bureau of Labour Statistics publication profiling hundreds of occupations in the US job market, the US Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) determined that market research analysts did not qualify as a "specialty occupation".

Leslie K Dellon, senior attorney (business immigration) at the American Immigration Council, said that this settlement is an important victory that will benefit hundreds of American businesses and the market research analysts they sought to employ.

"The settlement gives US businesses another chance to have their H-1B market research analyst petitions approved, this time under new guidance worked out by the parties to the lawsuit. Each H-1B petition reopened and approved will represent another opportunity for US employers and the workers they sponsored to advance their business objectives," she said. The class action lawsuit was filed by the American Immigration Council, American Immigration Lawyers Association, and the law firms Van Der Hout LLP, Berry Appleman and Leiden LLP, and Kuck Baxter Immigration LLC.

Jeff Joseph, partner at Berry Appleman and Leiden LLP, said this settlement finally resolves an issue on which immigration lawyers have been battling the government for years. PTI

Remembering Puneeth Rajkumar

The sudden demise of Sandalwood heart-throb Puneeth Rajkumar, on Friday, has left the film fraternity devastated. Friends and co-stars share their memories of 'Appu', as he was fondly known as, with CE

DARSHAN THOOGUDEEPA, ACTOR

A good soul, true friend gone too soon. You will always be missed. We shall always remember you for your good works. Difficult to digest this hard fact that you are no more with us (sic).

DIVYA SPANDANA, ACTOR

My entry into films happened with Puneeth Rajkumar and under his home banner. He was not just a co-star but a close friend to me. He was in touch with me when I was not doing any films. We share a great rapport on and off sets. He used to pull my leg quite often and at the same time console me, when needed. I was scared to dance with him, because he was such a good dancer. I'm still in shock that he left us.

REST IN POWER, STAR

GURUKIRAN, MUSIC COMPOSER

Puneeth was at my birthday party on Thursday night. He and I had a great time at my place together. His presence always lit up any occasion. We were chatting about films, songs and other technical subjects at length. He did not show any signs of ill health at that time. Puneeth always stood by me during happy and sad times. I can't digest what has happened.

PARVATHY THIRUVOTHU, ACTOR

It is an unbearable pain. We have lost an incredible and kind human being. I have the fondest memories of working with him in two films - Milana and Pruthvi. I admired Puneeth for so many things. On sets, he was genuinely invested in checking in on others. He always made sure everyone was comfortable. His demise is beyond comprehension.

DANISH SAIT, ACTOR

I'm devastated. We danced at my wedding together, we spoke about black coffee, relationships, nature, old Bangalore, content from around the world and his vision for Indian films. Puneeth anna was a massive star, he will continue to shine (sic).

SURAJ GOWDA, ACTOR

It's very unfortunate to hear of Puneeth Rajkumar's passing. I met him a few weeks ago for my film's premiere and we had a good chat. He even asked me to send the film so he could watch it at his place. It's a big loss to our film industry.

- 1 This particular sweet recipe was a closely-guarded secret in one family and passed on across generations, so much so that this GI indicator- accorded sweet became known as the enterprising grandson's name. What is the real name and local name of this sweet?
- 2 This vegetable variant, grown in Karnataka, gets part of its name due to its round shape. In the Paryaya festival, this is used to make sambar, bajji, and more. What's the name of this vegetable, and where is it from?
- 3 This thin sweet dish from Malnad region contains sugarcane juice and jaggery, and is usually made on an inverted earthen pot by spreading a thin layer of the batter, with fire below. It's a bit like dosa in preparation, but ends up like a crispy triangular snack. Name this dish.

FIT BIT

ANAHATA CHAKRA BADDHA HASTA VIRABHADRASANA

(OPEN HEART CHAKRA HANDS BOUND WARRIOR POSE)

The Anahata Chakra, located in the chest region, is our energy point of love. When we mindfully practice asanas that open this Chakra, we trigger the process of emotional healing. Also known as the Dorsal center, its nerves radiate out to the heart, lungs, and chest, and into the arms and hands. Though not very tough, beginners can use props and wall support to maintain body balance while performing this asana.

STEPS

- Begin with Adho Mukha Svanasana (Downward Dog Pose).
- Then, inhale and lift your right leg up, pointing your toes towards the ceiling and keeping your knee straight.
- Exhale and come into Ashwa Sanchalanasana (The Equestrian Pose).
- Inhale and lift your torso up.
- Now, stretch your arms forward and slowly come into Virabhadrasana (Warrior Pose : Type I).
- Stay in this pose for three long breaths.
- After that, inhale and stretch your arms sideways.
- Bring your arms behind your back and interlace your fingers.
- Stretch your arms to open your shoulder blades.
- You may inhale and bend back as much as you can till your chest faces the ceiling.
- Stay in this pose for three to six long breaths.
- To come out of this pose, release your hands and stretch your arms to reach the floor. Bend your upper body along with your arms.
- Now, slowly exhale and go back to Adho Mukha Svanasana.
- You can do this using the other leg in front.

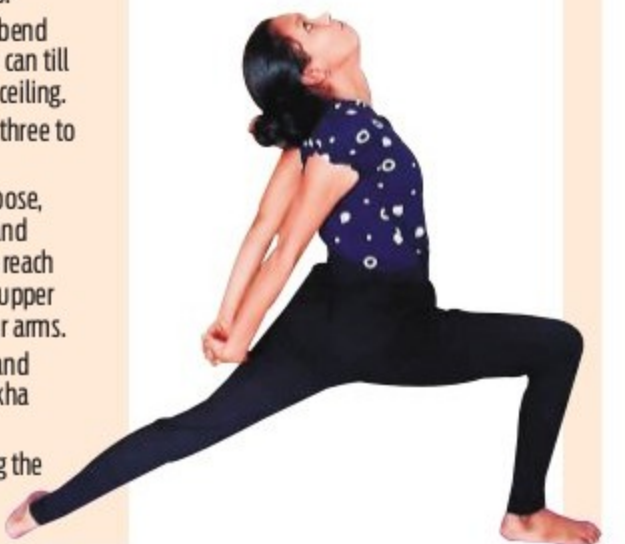

BENEFITS

- Helps balance the connection of the mind and heart.
- Stretches knees, thighs, groins, leg muscles and chest region.
- Improves spinal flexibility.
- Strengthens knees, ankles, shoulders, back and arms.
- Stimulates abdominal organs, ovaries and prostate gland, bladder, heart and kidneys.
- Helps to relieve the symptoms of menopause.

LIMITATIONS

- People suffering from high blood pressure, heart problems, head, shoulder or neck injuries, should avoid this asana.

ANILA KURIAN

S CARY ghosts, witches, pumpkins...the options for Halloween costumes are endless. With the feast on Sunday, Bengalureans are taking their game a notch higher this time to ace their looks. City stylists, makeup artistes and hairstylists have been approached well in advance for ways to look the best version of their favourite characters.

With Netflix's Korean series Squid Games being the talk of the town, almost everyone wants to recreate looks from the show, say stylists. Be it the no-makeup, two ponytail or the masked looks, dressing up like these characters is a favourite this year. Alice Li, hairstyle, makeup and hair colourist at Fairy Beauty Parlour, says, "From what I am seeing these days, a majority of people want a no-hassle, not-too-much work look. Squid Games' no-makeup look is a favourite. It's almost like a daily look."

Kim Kardashian's high and long-hair ponytail is another favourite this Halloween. Vanessa Fernandes, a senior salon director, BB-LUNT Salon, says, "It's important that one does intense shampooing and conditioning before trying any hairstyle. You need the hair to stay in place through the night. So use hairsprays that are good for your hair. Cruella de Vil's (played by Emma Stone) look with big hair requires a lot of

'Spooktacular' creations

Decking out as witches and ghosts is passe. Bengalureans are now mastering looks from Cruella and Squid Games this Halloween back combining. In order to get that right, use hotshot cold sprays so that you'll get a firm-yet-flexible look." And for Instagram-worthy pictures, use mirror shine sprays, she recommends, at the same time warning that these hairstyles require a lot of heat treatment which could damage your hair.

Audrey D'Souza, lead educator of hair, Lakmé Salon, lists some Halloween hairstyles. She says, "To create alien space buns (Carrie Fischer's look in Star Wars), liberally apply glitter for an added astral effect. To pull your hair together, first prep with a leave-in conditioner, then blow-dry your hair straight and push it into a space bun. For shine and to hold, don't forget to fix the buns with hairspray."

For Maleficent's look, played by Angelina Jolie, D'Souza explains, "If you don't have a pair of devil horns available, you can still evoke Maleficent vibes with just your hairstyle. You can use rollers to create the foundation of the horn and simply wrap your hair around them. The second option is to coil two little, tiny buns on your head using the crown of your hair. For this one, make sure to pin them in place to preserve the peak of the horn."

And if that's not your

Classic skeleton make-up look jam, a tightly-curved raven hair look is in trend too. "You'll need a centre parting after which you can curl your hair with an iron or foam rollers. Red lipstick and a red dress are great additions, you can also choose to draw exaggerated eyebrows for the drama," adds D'Souza.

A Halloween look isn't complete without nail art. Co-founder of Nailbox Sneha Bhagwat finds that Halloween is a time when people want longer, pointy and coffin-style nails.

"Black, solid and matte-finish nail colour is what people opt for during this season. Even the glitter powders have a chrome finish. To keep it vibrant, people opt for multiple colours and styles on each finger."

Stickers too add to the oomph factor. "Many clients are requesting pop-culture references for their nails which they want replicated. Just to keep it classy, they also opt for a sticky gel which is great for spider-like designs," says Bhagwat.

Hangover Theory

MIXOLOGY
Aman Dua
(The writer is beverage programmer, Raahi Neo Kitchen and Bar)

A hangover is mostly an after-party effect. With Covid, many people are now celebrating weekends in home parties. As there is no time limit within a complex, these parties are sure to extend late into the night.

In India, there is a myth that if you mix your alcohol, you end up having a hangover the next morning. But ask any mixologist/bartender and they will disagree with you as hangovers are not a result of mixing alcohol. It's about how you take care of your body before and after consuming alcohol.

There are many reasons for hangovers and this is the result of many different things — having really bad spirits, the eating habits while drinking or getting dehydrated during drinking sessions.

To avoid such issues as this, there are many precautions that one can take.

- 1 The quality of the spirits/alcohol consumed should be of good quality.
- 2 Do not worry about mixing different spirits, especially as it is very common in cocktails.
- 3 Dairy products should be consumed prior to drinking alcohol, which helps in digesting it.
- 4 Food is a very important part in avoiding hangover. Hence, make sure that you eat during and post your drinking session.

- 5 Make sure you drink enough water throughout the time you are drinking. The water level in the body goes out and hangover persists for a long time the next day. So, make sure that you drink at least two litres of water before going to bed.

Another remedy for a hangover and heaviness in your head the next day is to have fresh lime water to get rid of it.

Enjoy your drinks, but be sure to keep yourself hydrated and also stay within your limits.

SPOOKY SANDWICH

INGREDIENTS

- Multigrain Bread Slice 1 ● Multigrain Bread Slice (top layer) 1 ● Guacamole /Cheese Spread 2 tbsp ● Red Bell Pepper 1/2 ● Purple Cabbage 5-6 leaves ● English Cucumber 1 ● Boiled Egg /Boiled Potato 2 ● Cheese Slice 1 ● Green Pea 1 ● Black pepper corns 2

QUICK GUACAMOLE RECIPE:

Smash a ripe avocado and add grated garlic 1/4 tsp, 1/4 tsp salt, 1 tsp lemon juice, 1 tbsp chopped onion, 1 tbsp chopped tomato, 1 tbsp chopped coriander and mix well.

NOTES

The recipe has a main Spooky Sandwich with a Coffin Sandwich and a flying Egg Monster

EMBELLISHMENTS

Purple cabbage: This needs to be cut into thin strips, you can use kitchen scissors for the same.

Red Bell Pepper: For this, you need to cut a thin strip for the lip and small circles for the red eye. You can first use a knife to cut a big chunk and then use scissors to make a circle out of it. You need to make red eyes. Cut thin strips for the 'red cross' on the small sandwich which is in the shape of a coffin.

Cucumber: Measure the length of the slice and then cut cucumber slices lengthwise. You also need one circular slice for two ears and two thin strips for the ear hair.

Egg: The white portion of the eye is again a small portion from an egg white.

Cheese Slice: Take half a slice of cheese and make a smile on top and then use knife to cut out the teeth.

Toasting: Toast both the bread slices in a grill pan, so you get the strips on them and keep them ready. If you don't have grill pan, you can toast them in a regular pan/toaster too.

TO ASSEMBLE

The Coffin: Cut the top slice in half, put the Guacamole on the white side of the bread, close it and then trim the top in an inverted V-shape. Now, the toasted strips should look like a Coffin, you can then put the red bell pepper strips to make the red cross.

The egg: Poke three holes gently with a straw; put pepper corns to create the eyes. Make a small slit on the top and put the purple cabbage strips and then gently place the egg on two open leaves of the purple cabbage.

The Spooky Sandwich: Take a black plate and keep a slice of bread on it. Spread the guacamole/cheese and arrange the cucumber slices. Now, use the purple cabbage strips to make the hair and red bell pepper and egg white cut-outs for the eyes. Next, use the pea to create the nose, and the bell pepper cut-out for the red lips. Gently place the white cheese under the lips for the 'monster's' teeth. Cut the circular slice of cucumber in half and use them for the ears and put the thin strips across them.

If you have any left-over cucumber, you can cut them in form of coffin and stick cheese cut outs as a cross too.

A MAN WHO LOVED LIFE

Priyamani, actor

"It is a massive loss for the Kannada film industry. He is one of the biggest stars we know, and a brilliant actor and dancer too. I have had a great experience working with him in Anna Bond (2012). He was also a pure and gem of a person taking care of people around him and keeping the atmosphere light. He came to my wedding and blessed us. He stayed back for quite some time and spoke to my parents. I still can't believe that he's no more. May God give all the strength to Ashwini and the entire family."

Saravanan, director

I am still unable to believe that he is no more. He was such an energetic actor who could deliver what the director wanted. I traveled with him for around a year for Chakravyuha. Unfortunately, I met with an accident towards the end of the shoot. So, the film had to be delayed for two months. If he wanted, he could have started another project, but he patiently waited for my recovery. Moreover, I have never seen him angry and admired that. He was the first mass hero I worked with, and he chose to take that risk of working with me. It was only after I finished Chakravyuha I realised the magnitude of his stardom. I still believe that Chakravyuha didn't justify his stardom. I wanted to do another film with him, but I didn't work towards it as I thought I had time. But this news is unbelievable.

Sayyeshaa, actor

Puneeth was like family to me. We knew each other even before Yuvarathnaa, and so it was comfortable working with him. He was a gem of a person. When I was new to Bangalore, he would send me food and make me feel at home. Both of us loved dancing, and so we shared a camaraderie there as well. The void that he has left cannot be filled.

'HE WAS A TRUE LEGEND'

...says director KM Chaitanya, who has known Puneeth Rajkumar for 14 years

feel like I am still wrapping my head around the news of Puneeth Rajkumar's passing. I was in Tumkur earlier today for a shoot when I found out about it. I am headed back to the city to give my condolences. Puneeth was a humble man. When my first feature film, Aa Dinagalu, released in 2007, he called to tell me he liked it. It was an unlikely thing for a superstar to do. Normally, after a movie has been made, we schedule a premiere for the industry folk to see and share opinions. But with Puneeth, he saw the film, got my number, and called to tell me his thoughts on the film. It was so wonderful of him to do that. This was 14 years ago. Though I wouldn't say we were close friends, we were always in touch. I even sat with him during script development for one of his films. He felt I could give him valuable inputs for the script. One of the last times I spoke to him was when Sanchari Vijay passed away in June. I had texted him to tell him about Vijay's passing and he immediately called to ask for more details. He wanted to know how he could help, if he should visit the hospital, and who else was there to help. I remember putting him in touch with another director friend of mine who was with Vijay's family at the time.

It's this humbling behaviour of his that made him so loveable. Every year, they would have lunch at his home for his father, Rajkumar's, birth anniversary. I've been there and interacted with him. His humility translated to his work life too. I spoke to him quite recently to tell him I was happy to see him work in Pawan Kumar's Dvitra. It was not a regular commercial film and Puneeth knew that too, but he still chose to work in the film because he wanted to push boundaries. He was aware of his stardom and what it could bring to the audience. Through his production house, he brought new talent and added his name behind new experiments. Dvitra was one such project. He was just getting started on trying new things and this happened. He was one of the fittest in the industry. We were all in awe of his physique. Puneeth comes from a legacy, and his body of work has been amazing. He leaves behind a vacuum. He was a true legend." (As told to Anila Kurian)

A SHARADHAA

Each time I called Puneeth for an interview, our conversation would never end without one question from me: How do you manage to look so young? It's a quality he took great pride in, believing that as long as he looked young, he could continue playing the hero. The late actor, a father of two grown-up daughters, would laugh each time—that trademark chuckle that betrayed his genial personality—and say that it's all about keeping fit and exercising. Puneeth was a man who inspired those around him to keep fit and healthy. He could often be spotted cycling with his friends. His exercise videos have been an inspiration for many youngsters; they adored him, and he adored them back calling them, Abhimanigale Deuru (fans are gods). There were very many who loved him for the hero he was; if only they knew the person behind the actor. My job as a journalist allowed me to get a few more peeks into the personality behind this actor, and I'm grateful for that.

The actor enjoyed travelling. He would dedicate a couple of months every year for his sojourns and would come back with dozens and dozens of photographs. Indeed, he dearly loved the cameras, both being in front of and behind them. He was a man who was good at his work, yes, but who knew how to live too. As I have discovered, he would never answer calls on Sundays, because "it's a day for home and family and children". His good life allowed him the luxury of collecting cars too, another of his many passions. Perhaps it's his passion for life that rubbed off on the younger ones of his family—his nephews, Vinay Rajkumar, Yuva Rajkumar, Dheeren Ramkumar, Dhanya Ramkumar...—who all hold him in great esteem. Sure, he had the good fortune of being born to the great Dr. Rajkumar. As the famous song goes, 'Bombe helutaithe, mathe helutaithe, neene Rajkumaraa...' (The doll says, the doll says again, you are prince!). The film fraternity and fans often saw Puneeth's father in him. In an age of star kids who have attained fame and fortune, Puneeth was not one to underplay the privilege he was born into. He never had qualms admitting the greatness of his father or declaring that he was not worthy of the comparison. "I would be lying if I said I am like my father," he said. And yet, though he could have easily survived on the merits of his identity, this was an actor who trained himself to be a dancer because he enjoyed it. He had so many more years left. He had so many more dreams. One of them was to feature in a film alongside Shivanna and Raghavendra, a film he hoped to direct. There was another dream too for this baby-faced man. So long as he looked young, he knew he could be a hero. But he had another plan up his sleeve, were life to rob him of his youthful looks. "I can then stop being a hero and become an actor!" he said. It's the dreams that time doesn't let you achieve that cause the greatest pain, and Puneeth, who has left us all so young, had so many dreams unrealised, so much laughter not expressed.
